PRESIDENT LEAVES
CAPITAL TONIGHT
ON MONTH'S TRIP

Holds Final Conference With Hitchcock, Apparently to Discuss Fight in Senate
During His Absence.

PILOT ENGINE WILL PRECEDE HIS SPECIAL

Wilson Invites Organizations to Nominate Delegates for Industrial Conference in Washington in October.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Wilson will leave the national capital tonight on his speech-making tour of the country to urge before the American people early ratification of the peace treaty and its league of nations covenant by the Senate without qualifying reservations. The first stop of the presidential special will be at Columbus, O., where the President will deliver the first of his scheduled addresses Thursday.

President Wilson will be accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Wilson, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the President's personal physician, and Secretary Tumulty. A corps of stenographers, secret service men and some thirty press representatives also will be included in the party.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the leading administration spokesman in the Senate, was invited to the White House today for a final conference. It was understood that the President desires to discuss with Senator Hitchcock plans for the conduct during his absence of the administration fight in the Senate for ratification of the treaty and the league of nations covenant, without change.

30 Set Speeches Called For.
Although the itinerary calls for 20 set speeches in the principal cities of the West, it is believed the President also will be compelled to deliver many short platform addresses at smaller towns along the route.

Along the entire route of the President's trip a pilot engine will be run ahead as a precautionary measure against accidents and other eventualities.

Members of the party will live on the train principally during the 27 days of the trip, only a few overnight stops being planned.

In preparation for the exacting task before him, the President has made only the most necessary appointments during the last few days, and under the direction of Admiral Grayson has spent most of his time in resting and recreation, keeping in the open air as much as possible.

Farmers in Conference.
The conference between labor, capital and agricultural interests called by President Wilson for discussion of the present economic situation will be held in Washington between Oct. 5 and 10, it was learned today at the White House.

The President wrote today to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representatives of the leading agricultural associations, investment bankers and to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking that they submit nominations for delegates representing each group. After receiving this list en route to the Pacific Coast, the President will select a list of his own and combine the two.

Forty or 45 delegates will be chosen. Preliminary arrangements for the conference were discussed at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, and it was said at the White House that the full list of delegates probably would be ready within a week.

The entire labor situation and also arrangements for the conference were understood to have been discussed at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, the only one possible for the President to attend this month. It was presumed that the plan to invite farmers' representatives, which had been urged by several members of the Senate, was agreed upon at the Cabinet meeting.

Hayden Blames Republicans.
Criticizing President Wilson's plan to "tour the country for political reasons while chaos and confusion exist in the industrial world," Representative Rodenberg, Republican, of Illinois, told the House yesterday that present conditions were more critical than they were last month when the President made "an adroit move to shift responsibility for the unrest to Congress."

In his Labor day message Rodenberg said the President appealed for team work.

"How can you have team work," he asked, "when the lead horse goes galloping around the world? After being absent for nearly a year he plans to take another trip which will consume a month, expenses of which will be paid out of the treasury."

Action of the President in blocking the House recess, Rodenberg said.

Flag-Bedecked
Streets to Greet
President Wilson

DOWNTOWN streets, particularly the sections along which President Wilson is to drive, will be decorated with American flags in honor of the President's visit. It is desired that the decorations shall be as profuse as they were for the parades of home-coming service units, in the early summer.

An especial request has also been made that on the streets which the presidential party is to traverse, the pavements be kept clear from curb to curb, no automobiles or other vehicles standing at any point.

FRIDAY WILL END
THE STRAW HAT
SEASON IN ST. LOUIS

"Fall Hats" Specified for 40
Members of Official Committee to Receive President.

The end of the local straw hat season will be marked by President Wilson's visit to St. Louis Friday.

"Fall hats" are specified for the 40 members of the official reception committee, in the instructions agreed upon at yesterday's meeting of the committee. The members are to wear fall hats and business suits, when they meet at the St. Louis Club at 3:30 a. m., and proceed, each in his own automobile, to the Presidential train at the Union boulevard entrance of Forest Park.

No matter how warm the morning may be, the finest Panama hat, however freshly cleaned, will not be admissible. Members of the President's party, including secret service men, newspaper correspondents and stenographers, may wear what they please, but the official hosts must have hats of an autumn sort, either of fedora or derby pattern.

The rule requiring fall hats was made after the committee had decided that silk hats and Prince Albert coats should not be worn. It was then agreed that straw hats should also be avoided, and on suggestion of R. H. Stockton it was specified that fall hats should be worn.

ST. LOUISANS WHO FOUGHT WITH
CZECH ARMY TO GET $50 EACH

Bohemian Residents Have Collected
Fund for 84 Heroes of Three Years' Fighting.

Bohemian residents of St. Louis have collected $4200 to be distributed among 84 St. Louisans who fought three years with the Czechoslovak army, each man receiving $50. The money will be presented upon the contingent's arrival in St. Louis. The men reached New York yesterday.

A parade will be held here, followed by a dinner in Bohemian hall, Ninth street and Allen avenue. The date of arrival in St. Louis is not yet known, but the men served in France until the signing of the armistice, then fought the Hungarian Soviet army in an effort to check the spread of Bolshevism.

EGYPT STIRRED BY REPORT THAT SENATORS FAVOR ITS FREEDOM

Popular Demonstrations Are Held at Cairo and Alexandria as Result of Rumor.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Enthusiastic demonstrations were held at Cairo and Alexandria on Saturday and Sunday in consequence of the receipt of a telegram declaring that the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate had declared that Egypt should be independent, according to a Cairo dispatch to the Daily Mail. It is said that Pasha Zagloul, head of the Egyptian national deputation in Paris, was the author of the telegram to Cairo.

No action has been taken by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate regarding Egypt that would seem to warrant demonstrations in that country. The committee recently gave a hearing in which the claims of the Egyptian Nationalists were voiced, but no further action has been taken by the committee.

$5,800,000 IN LIFE
INSURANCE CLAIMS
PAID HERE IN 1918

Statistics Show Settlements on Policies Throughout Country Totaled More Than Billion Dollars.

CITY RANKS FIFTH IN AMOUNTS AWARDED

Seven Local Disbursements
Were for More Than $50,- 000—Influenza Increased
Deaths 14 Per Cent.

St. Louisans received $5,800,000 in payments on life insurance policies during 1918, according to statistics published in the current issue of The Insurance Press, a New York publication. The figures show that this city ranked fifth among the cities of the United States in the amount of life insurance paid out last year.

Life insurance payments throughout the country, including claims awarded by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance up to Dec. 31, 1918, aggregated $1,115,810,000. These represent payments on death claims, dividends to policy holders and for lapses, surrendered and purchased policies.

Large Payments Made.
Seven claims of $50,000 or more were paid out on policies held by St. Louisans. Those for whom the policies were issued and the amounts paid on each were as follows:

Frank W. Hill, $124,688; Charles R. Judge, $100,000; Leon J. Schwab, $68,000; Henry S. Potter, $61,000; Leon J. Cohen, $60,000; Adolph Pfeiffer, $52,500; and Henry Blake Collier, $50,000.

Other St. Louisans on whose policies large payments were made were: J. F. Valle, $38,485; William Grafman, $36,000; Dudley A. Bragdon, $35,000; Jewett Waggoner, $33,140; Congressman Jacob E. Meeker, $33,045; William F. Ober, $25,263; Claude Kilpatrick, $25,000; Hugo Summa, $25,000; Samuel P. Sicker, $23,995; John Hooper Tennent, $23,196; Clay Gregory, $20,524; David A. Bibby, $20,500; Francis S. Higgins, $20,000; the Rev. William J. Williamson, $20,000; Charles J. Lepert, $19,618; Essauis W. Blumer, $19,575; Henry A. Schmidt, $16,091; Samuel H. Young, $15,003; John J. Tausig, $11,593; and George J. Andreas, $10,906.

Influenza Increased Claims.
The largest payment on a single life in 1918 was for Robert A. Rowan of Los Angeles, Cal., the amount being $575,000. The second was $494,400 on the life of Rowland G. Hazard of Peace Dale, R. I., and the third, $450,000 on Edward B. Smith of Philadelphia. Several other claims of $400,000 each were paid in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The rate of mortality in 1918 is estimated to have been 32 per cent greater than in 1917 and 14 per cent greater than the average death rate for a score of years previous to 1918. The advance is attributed to the influenza epidemic. The prevalence of influenza is estimated to have cost the legal reserve companies of the United States $100,000,000 and the Government War Risk Bureau $150,000,000.

An inquiry made by the Insurance Press indicates that war claims, meaning all deaths of men in the service, not including influenza, were equivalent to about a 6 per cent increase on normal mortality. On that basis it is estimated that the war losses of American life insurance companies in 1918 amounted to about $25,000,000.

Theodore Roosevelt Jr. Nominated.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt won the Republican nomination for Assemblyman in the Second District, Nassau County, without opposition. He will be opposed by Elias Raff, also a war veteran.

KAISER PAROLED
FRENCH PRISONER TO VISIT MOTHER

Soldier Kept His Word and Returned to Germany After Parent Died.

Correspondence of the Associated Press
MOULINS, France, Aug. 23.—Raoul Doridot, a soldier of the great war who killed himself recently, was the hero of a strange adventure. Made prisoner early in the war and sent to Germany, he learned during the winter of 1915 that his mother was dangerously ill. He sent a letter to the then Emperor William asking to be permitted to proceed to her deathbed. Well disposed that day, perhaps, the Emperor granted the request, but with the proviso that Doridot give his word of honor to return to the camp once the object of his journey was accomplished. Arriving at Besancon, he was held by the French authorities who were suspicious because of the unprecedented occurrence of a private being released on parole by the Germans. While he was detained at Besancon his mother died.

The voyage to Moulins being now without object, true to his word, Doridot returned to Germany and presented himself at the camp.

"I never expected to see you again," said the commandant in a humorous vein.

"The word of a French soldier is worth more than a scrap of paper," responded Doridot.

Since his return to France after the armistice he had been brooding over the death of his mother.

CITY STREETS TO BE CLEANED UP FOR PRESIDENT'S VISIT

Street Department Employees Directed to Make Route of Auto Drive Spotless as Possible.

If President Wilson sees any dirt or refuse in St. Louis Friday he will have to go out and look for it. None will be visible along the line of the President's automobile drive.

A clean-up order, applying to Lindell boulevard, Locust street and the other streets which the presidential party is to traverse, was issued today by Director Talbert of the Department of Streets and Sewers.

He directed Street Commissioner Slater that not only the pavements, but the vacant lots along the line of the drive, should receive the most thorough attention of the city's street-cleaning force. A loose can, visible in any vacant lot when the President goes by will have an ominous meaning for the Street Department employees responsible for that particular lot.

KING AND QUEEN OF BELGIUM
EXPECTED IN U. S. ABOUT OCT. 1

Will Be Guests of President and Mrs. Wilson at White House for Probably Three Days.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will arrive in Washington about Oct. 1, and will be guests of the President and Mrs. Wilson at the White House, probably remaining three days.

The King and Queen will arrive in this country late this month and will come directly to Washington to visit the President and Mrs. Wilson and then begin a tour of the country. It was learned today that the tentative itinerary provides for their return to New York from Washington for a public reception. Afterwards they will leave on a journey that will take them to the most important cities which will be visited en route have not been determined upon finally.

FARIS REPORTED CHOICE OF WILSON
FOR U. S. JUDGE

Nomination of Missouri Supreme Justice as Successor to Judge Dyer Is Expected to Go to Senate Soon.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S RETURN IS AWAITED

Name Said to Be One of Several Submitted by Palmer and Selected by President
From Among Number.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Judge C. B. Faris of the Missouri Supreme Court is the present choice of the President for the Federal district judgeship at St. Louis to succeed Judge Dyer, and unless there should be some unexpected last-minute shift his name will shortly be sent to the Senate for confirmation.

No official announcement of the President's intention could be had at the White House this morning, but it became known that the name of Judge Faris has been singled out by the President for the nomination, presumably from a list of acceptable candidates supplied him by Attorney-General Palmer.

It is understood that one of the last acts of the President last night in clearing his desk, preparatory to starting on tour today, was to pass upon the Faris nomination.

Awaited Palmer's Return.
When the nomination will be sent to the Senate is uncertain, but it was intimated that this would not be done until the return to Washington of Attorney-General Palmer, who is ill in Pennsylvania. At Palmer's office today it was said that he would not be back at his desk here till early next week.

The fact that in effect the appointment awaits the official O. K. of the Attorney-General is taken to mean that Palmer sent several names to the President, for if only one name had been sent the Attorney-General's final endorsement of that name would have been implied and there would have been no reason for delay in reporting the nomination to the Senate.

It is regarded as highly improbable that Attorney-General Palmer, having recommended the Missouri Supreme Court Justice among others, will seek to change the President's decision.

Prompt Confirmation Likely.
No member of the Missouri delegation had been informed this morning of the pending appointment of Faris, assuming that his name is sent to the Senate, as now contemplated, it is virtually certain that confirmation will follow without opposition.

Senator Reed could not be reached for a direct expression of opinion this morning, but it is known that though Reed fought strenuously for the appointment of Attorney-General McAllister of Missouri, Judge Faris is not objectionable to him.

Senator Spencer is out of the city. He will not oppose Faris.

Judge Faris was the first choice of a number of up-State members of the Missouri delegation, including Representatives Dickinson, Alexander, Nelson and Rubey. His strongest backing, however, came from his colleagues on the Missouri Supreme bench, who sent Judge Robert F. Walker of St. Louis to Washington last June to urge his appointment upon the Attorney-General.

In administration quarters it was said today that the Attorney-General's failure to recommend a St. Louisan as his single choice was due to the apparently irreconcilable differences among backers of St. Louis candidates. Palmer, it was explained, waited in vain for some agreement on one city candidate out of the many who were proposed.

Long Insisted on Thompson.
Breckinridge Long, Third Assistant Secretary of State, insisted on the nomination of Frank Thompson of St. Louis, and Thompson, it is believed, would have been named except for the handicap that he carried in the support of Joseph V. Folk.

With the appointment apparently in a deadlock between Thompson and McAllister, Marion C. Early urged by Representative Ingalls, emerged as a probable compromise appointment. No sooner was the news published that Early was being given favorable consideration than opposition from Anti-Saloon League sources, based on the fact that Early during his attorney's career had defended suits for brewing interests, began to manifest itself in numerous communications to the Attorney-General.

Recently the name of former Circuit Judge Daniel C. Taylor of St. Louis had come to the front, while Judge Albert D. Norton remained as a possibility throughout the long session.

HINES TO GRANT RATES TO AID RIVER CITIES

Class and Commodity Charges to Gulf Ports Decided on to Equalize Situation.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Class and commodity rates upon export traffic from the Middle West to South Atlantic and Gulf ports were decided upon today by Director-General Hines. They will be substantially the same as the rates to New York on domestic freight and will equalize charges so that southern gateways to South and Central America can compete on equal terms with the East.

Decision to establish the rates is the successful outcome of a long fight carried on by Southern interests for their share of the nation's commerce. The official announcement says:

"Director-General Hines has today issued instructions for the preparation of tariffs, which will provide for class and commodity rates upon export traffic from points in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, including cities located on both banks of the Mississippi River from Dubuque, Ia., to St. Louis, inclusive, also from points in the southern peninsula of the State of Michigan to South Atlantic and Gulf ports from Wilmington to New Orleans, inclusive. When the tariffs have been prepared, the matter will receive final consideration in Washington. Special consideration is to be given to export traffic when destined to Mexico and Central America, because of the generally low ocean rates from Gulf ports to those countries."

"AIRPLANE TAXICAB"
DAMAGED IN LANDING

Craft Turns Over With Pilot and Passenger at University
City Field.

A Curtiss biplane which has been operated as a "11-per-minute airplane taxicab" on a field at 7400 Delmar avenue, in University City, turned over and was damaged about 7 p. m. yesterday while being piloted by James Giffin, a former army lieutenant, and carrying as a passenger Mrs. Walter W. Candy of 8 Kingsbury place.

The biplane has been in commission at the field about a week and has been carrying passengers, including a number of women and children, at the fare rate of $1 a minute. It had been in the air less than a minute when engine trouble developed and Giffin veered to the ground. In his effort to land he struck a clump of bushes, the obstruction of the kind on the road. The machine turned over backwards and landed upside down. Straps held Giffin and Mrs. Candy in the cockpit.

It was said the damage to the machine was about $75 and that the airplane "taxi" would be out of commission about a week, after which the $1-a-minute flights would be resumed.

Mrs. Candy today told a Post-Dispatch reporter the accident was so sudden she did not realize what happened. She said she heard Giffin say something about engine trouble and the motor stopped, making conversation possible. An instant later the machine hit the clump of weeds and turned over. She said she was physically unhurt but received a severe nervous shock.

Asserts Senators Who Last

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Declaring the real purpose of the Foreign Relations Committee majority in amending the peace treaty was to kill the treaty entirely and that such a course would be suicidal to the United States, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, Democratic leader, asserted in a Senate speech today that the majority of the Senators never would accept any of the committee changes.

"The treaty opponents," he said, "crawl on the ground with a microscope searching for pitfalls" in the league of nations and overlook substantial benefits which the treaty would bring the nation. The proposal of Senator Knox, Republican, of Pennsylvania that the treaty be rejected and a separate peace made with Germany was characterized by the speaker as an insane "mixture of poltroonery and folly."

"By a vote of nine to eight," said Senator Hitchcock, "the committee on Foreign Relations is to bring squarely before the Senate the question of unconditional surrender. Does anyone believe the Senate should vote in favor of the Shantung amendment or any other? What would happen?"

"Courses Open to President."
"Either the President would refuse to go further with the treaty, or he would submit the amendment to the Nations associated with the United States. Does anyone believe they would accept it? Does anyone believe that Great Britain, who has already ratified the treaty and is also under a pledge to Japan with regard to Shantung, would accept the Shantung amendment? Does anyone think that France, also under a pledge to Japan, would ratify this change? Does anyone suppose that Japan herself would submit to this humiliation before the eyes of the world?"

"I cannot conceive of any intelligent and candid man who would assume such a thing as a possibility. We would be met by an instant refusal to accept the amendment, and then where would the United States find itself in this international settlement? We would find ourselves out in the cold, isolated from the rest of the world. The work of ratifying the treaty would proceed without us."

"The treaty itself provides that three nations must ratify it before Germany have signed, it shall go into effect. It is easy to see the benefits which Great Britain and France will derive from this treaty. It is preposterous to suppose that Japan will delay its ratification. The result is beyond all question."

"What, then, will the United States do? Some say that Congress can pass a joint resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany. Others say the United States can negotiate a separate and independent treaty. Those who talk this way evidently have no conception of the enormous benefits which the United States derives from this treaty."

How United States Benefits.
In article 231 Germany is compelled to accept full responsibility for the damage caused by the war. Does anyone think if we undertook to negotiate a separate treaty with Germany, Germany would make any such concessions to the United States? Germany might say she had never declared war on the United States; that it was the United States which forced war upon her.

"Take the matter of German property in the United States. Under this treaty all acts of the United States and of the Alien Property Custodian with regard to that property shall be validated unless Germany can show actual fraud. Is anyone insane enough to suppose that Germany will voluntarily make any such concessions to us if we lose the hold upon her which this treaty gives? Suppose Germany points to the treaties of 1789 and 1825, under which we agreed to respect the private property of German nationals in the United States.

"This treaty creates a commission called the reparations commission. Unquestionably it will be the most powerful international body ever created. It receives from Germany all reparations paid and distributes them to the various nations. Does anyone think under the circumstances the United States can afford not to have a representative on the Reparations Commission?"

"To my mind it would be suicidal to throw away the advantages and benefits provided in this treaty. It would be disastrous commercially and financially."

"Defeat of the treaty by means of proposed amendments to it is the real program and hope of the majority of the Committee on Foreign Relations. It is for this purpose that the treaty has been locked up in cold storage for so many weeks. They have felt justified in retaining the treaty in committee holding useless hearings and making killing amendments with the full knowledge that amendments would beat the treaty just as effectively as a refusal to ratify."

"Knox Shocked Country." "A few, a very few, have declared they would vote against the treaty because of the league of nations. But it has remained for Senator Knox to declare boldly against our participation in the peace settlement. To say that he has amazed the country is to put it mildly. He has shocked the country. He formerly favored taking the league of nations out of the treaty and ratifying the peace settlement with Germany. Now he suddenly changes front."

"What has become of the high professions of last year? Last October, when Germany sought terms for the armistice, the Senators now seeking to kill this treaty shouted for unconditional surrender. They demanded terms of peace dictated to Germany. They insisted that the United States should to the last maintain the closest co-operation with the allied Governments. They said it would be a breach of faith if we failed to stand by Poland and other nations formed as a result of the war."

"Now what a change! The treaty has been negotiated, Germany has signed it; Germany has ratified it; Great Britain and Belgium have done the same; France, Italy and Japan will do so in rapid succession. The treaty dictates the terms to Germany just as these Senators demanded it should."

"How Senators Have Changed." "But now the same Senators who insisted on a dictated peace propose to abandon it and negotiate a peace settlement on terms acceptable to Germany. It is suggested that we desert our associates and negotiate a separate treaty. It is proposed that we adopt a policy of quit and scuttle. It is proposed that we repudiate our obligations and like cravens leave them to be performed by the nations lately associated with us."

"Was there ever a more insane international policy proposed? In the mixture of pottiness and folly it is difficult to see which predominates. The Senator from Pennsylvania goes the limit. He not only proposes that we desert our friends and abandon our obligations, but he suggests that we release Germany from all promises of indemnities and reparations. Why not go further and propose that we compensate Germany? That would be a still stronger appeal to German sentiment."

"He says, in so many words, slaughter the treaty, desert our friends, abandon our obligations, yield to Germany. I have full faith that when this treaty is finally released from cold storage it will in the Senate receive different treatment. Here, unquestionably, there is an overwhelming majority who desire to finish the work undertaken when we entered the war. Here will be found a safe majority for a peace settlement."

"Advantages in the League." "I have spoken of the treaty as a whole. But the league of nations feature particularly has been persistently and unreasonably attacked in the Senate. They who compare these possible disadvantages seem to ignore altogether the enormous advantages of organizing the world for peace."

"They make mountains out of molehills in reviewing difficulties of the league plan. They are suspicious that, while it may benefit every other nation on earth, it is so devised as to bring disaster to the United States. They crawl on the ground with a microscope searching for pitfalls, and are unable to look forward to the promised land of peace and order and justice to which the new movement leads."

Reservations to Be Taken Up by Committee Post in Rough Shape.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The reservations to be reported for incorporation in the resolution of ratification attached to the pending peace treaty have been completed. They were obtained by Senators Lodge and Knox. The work represents a composite of all the drafts submitted to the committee in the way of suggestions. As thrown together for inspection before actually being adopted for presentation to the Senate, four of the reservations cover the chief features the Republicans are determined to demand as more specific safeguards. These are the Monroe Doctrine, the right to control domestic affairs, the sole power of Congress to declare war or utilize troops under Article X and the reservation of the right of withdrawal. A fifth reservation has been added. This declares that the American representative in the council of the league of nations shall not have the right to cast his vote until confirmed by the Senate.

The preamble asserts that the treaty shall not become effective until the reservations have been accepted and approved by the other signatories of the treaty. "The mild reservationists today saw a copy of the proposed resolution of ratification, and the campaign is on to reconcile them to the five proposals. It became more evident today that

MEXICAN FEDERAL SOLDIERS FIRED ON U. S. AVIATORS

Consul Garcia of Laredo, Tex., Makes Admission, but Says Airplane Was on Mexican Side of the Boundary.

AIRMAN WAS NOT SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Washington Military Circles Consider Firing on Our Fliers More Serious Than Ransom Incident.

LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 3.—Mexican Federal soldiers made the attack yesterday upon an American airplane fired upon near here, while on border patrol duty, but the machine was within Mexican territory at the time, according to Mexican Consul Garcia of Laredo.

The firing was "unwarranted," the Consul said, and was done in the absence of the detachment's commander, and the case has been reported to the superior authorities for instructions in regard to punishment of those guilty.

Cousul Garcia, in a statement to the Associated Press today, declared an investigation had established that the American airplane was one kilometer from the international border, within Mexican territory, when attacked.

The Consul also said that Gen. Garza, the Mexican commander in the Nuevo Laredo district, opposite here, "explicitly denies giving orders to his troops to fire at American troops or aircraft, even if they are on the Mexican side of the boundary."

Col. B. R. Buck, commanding this district, refused to add anything to his statement of last night, when he said it was known an outpost of Mexican federal troops had been stationed near the point where the attack occurred.

How many shots were fired by the Mexicans and the number of the attacking party has not been positively determined today, although it is said several volleys were fired before the plane, which has been near the ground, got out of range on the Texas side.

When fired upon yesterday, Capt. David W. McNabb, U. S. Aviation Corps, was slightly wounded. He was on aerial patrol duty along the international boundary northwest of here.

With Lieut. von de B. Johnson, Capt. McNabb was flying slowly up the Texas coast, when suddenly a group of Mexicans fired a volley of shots at the airplane, wounding McNabb near the ear. Several shots pierced the plane's wings.

Capt. McNabb and Lieut. Johnson, who reported fully on the attack to Col. Buck, would make no statement to the press. McNabb's wound is not serious.

Landing immediately in a field on the Texas side, Capt. McNabb was taken to a farmhouse and aid was summoned from Fort McIntosh Hospital, a physician making the trip with surgical supplies in an airplane. When it was found McNabb's wound was not serious, he was removed to the post hospital.

Baker Waiting on Official Report on Mexican Attack. WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The War Department will await official report from Major-General Dickman, commander of the Southern Department, Secretary Baker says, before considering the question of whether or not action should be taken against the Mexicans who fired on an American airplane on the Rio Grande yesterday, wounding one officer. Until such report is received, Baker declined to speculate on what line the department's action may take.

In military circles, the firing upon the army fliers is considered far more serious than the recent detention of two other aviators for ransom. All army machines are plainly marked, it is said, and the press reports from the border indicate that Captain McNabb's airplane was either on the American side or was following the river—the international boundary at this point. In either case it should have immunity from hostile attack.

CORRELL SLAYERS CAPTURED

By the Associated Press. HOXMO CITY, Sept. 3.—The Federal authorities in Tampico report the capture of five rebels, among whom were the assassins of John N. Correll, an American of Ada, Ok., who was slain south of Colonia in June.

It was a policy of racial ascendancy and oppression to which the people of Austria gave their steady support, which was one of the deeper causes of the war. ALLIED NOTE ON REPLY OF AUSTRIA TO PEACE TERMS HOLDS PEOPLE RESPONSIBLE

States That They Cannot Evade Reparation for Wrongs Which Their Government Committed.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The note transmitting the Allied reply to the observations of the Austrian delegation on the conditions of peace, addressed to Karl Renner and signed by M. Clemenceau, President of the Council, follows: Draft of the covering letter: (1) The Allied and Associated Powers have given most careful consideration to the observations of the Austrian delegation on the draft treaty of peace. The reply of the Austrian delegation objections to the draft treaty that, owing to the dissolution of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, Austria ought not to be treated as an enemy state at all, and that, in consequence, she ought not to be made in any special way inferior of the responsibilities in regard to reparation, to which the Austro-Hungarian monarchy undoubtedly would be liable, did it still exist.

As the observations point to a fundamental misconception of the responsibilities of the people of Austria, the Allied and Associated Powers feel it necessary to state in brief the principles which they consider must be applied to the settlement of the late war so far as Austria is concerned. The people of Austria, together with their neighbors, the people of Hungary, bear in a peculiar degree responsibility for the calamities which have befallen Europe during the last five years.

The war was precipitated by an ultimatum presented to Serbia by the Government at Vienna and requiring acceptance without delay of a series of demands which amounted to the destruction of the sovereignty of a neighboring sovereign State. The Royal Government of Serbia accepted within the prescribed time all the demands except those which involved the virtual surrender of its independence.

Yet the then Austro-Hungarian Government, refusing all offers of a conference of conciliation on the basis of that reply, immediately opened hostilities against Serbia, thereby deliberately setting light to a train which led directly to a universal war.

It is now evident that this ultimatum was no more than an insincere excuse for beginning a war which the Austro-Hungarian Government at Vienna in close association with the rulers of Germany, had long prepared and for which it considered the time had arrived. The presence of the troops in the road of Austria's troubles today.

Vienna was made the economic and political center of the empire; everything was artificially concentrated there. The railways, the postal and telegraph services, the public law and the liberties of Europe.

People Are Responsible. The Austrian delegation appear to think that the responsibility for these acts rested solely on the Hapsburg dynasty and its satellites, and that by reason of the dissolution of that monarchy through the action of the allies, the people of Austria can escape responsibility for the deeds of the Government, which was their own Government and which had its home in their capital.

Had the fact that the war was preceded, endeavored to curb the militarist and domineering spirit by which the Government of the Hapsburg monarchy was animated; that they made any effective protest against the war, or refused to assist or support their rulers in prosecuting it, some attention might now be paid to this plea. But the fact that the war was proclaimed on its outbreak in Vienna, that the people of Austria were its ardent supporters from start to finish, and that they did nothing to disassociate themselves from the policy of their Government and its allies until they had been defeated in the field, makes it clear that, according to any theory of justice, they must be held to bear their full measure of responsibility for a crime which has brought such misery on the world.

Was an Autocracy. There is, however, a further fact to which the Allied and Associated Powers feel bound to point. The Hapsburg system became in its essence a system maintaining the ascendancy of the German and Magyar peoples over a majority of the inhabitants of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy. This ancient and effete autocracy, with its militarist traditions, was maintained in existence by the vigorous repression of the inhabitants of Austria and Hungary because it gave them a domination over their fellow subjects.

It was a policy of racial ascendancy and oppression to which the people of Austria gave their steady support, which was one of the deeper causes of the war. It led to those racial wars which are now the frontiers of Austria and Hungary, which kept Europe in a ferment of unrest; it led to the growing dependence of Austria-Hungary on Germany, and consequently to the subordination of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy to the German plans of domination, and, in the end, it led to a situation in which the rulers of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy could see no other way of preserving their own power than to set to work deliberately to destroy the liberty of small and dependent nations which kept alive the vision of liberty among their oppressed brethren, and which blocked the way to Constantinople and the Bosphorus.

Treaty Must Stand. In the opinion, therefore, of the Allied and Associated Powers, it is impossible to admit the plea of the Austrian delegation that the people of Austria do not share the responsibility of the Government which provoked the war, or that they are to escape the duty of making reparation to the nations which they have so grievously wronged. The principles upon which the draft treaty is based must therefore stand.

Until the signing of peace, the people of Austria are, and will remain, an enemy people; upon its signature they will become a state with whom the Allied and Associated Powers hope and expect to maintain friendly relations.

The Allied and Associated Powers feel bound to point out that the disabilities from which Austria will suffer will arise, not from the provisions of the treaty, but mainly from the policy of ascendancy which its people have pursued in the past.

Many of these peoples protested against the war, and for their protests suffered confiscation, imprisonment, or death. Many more, who were captured or escaped, joined the armies of the allies, and played their part in the war of liberation. But they are now, one and all, determined, and rightly determined, to set themselves up as independent states. They will trust Vienna no more. The policy of ascendancy has borne its inevitable fruit in the fact of partition, and it is this partition which lies at the root of Austria's troubles today.

King to Give Crown Properties of Italy to the Peasants

By the Associated Press. ROME, Monday, Sept. 1. KING VICTOR EMANUEL has decided to surrender all the crown properties in favor of the peasants and for national work for former soldiers. Premier Nitti at one of the first sittings of Parliament, which is to be opened, will make this announcement.

The Crown properties of Italy are larger than those of any other country, since the House of Savoy inherited the properties of the rulers of the 11 states in which Italy was divided before the kingdom became united.

During the war the King gave over his splendid royal palace in Caserta, the Castel Moscati de Piedmont, for the use of his soldiers. His intention now is that the vast lands which he possesses virtually in every section of Italy shall go to the peasants who fought in the war, while his palaces, castles and other buildings shall be utilized for philanthropic purposes.

In addition, the King has expressed a desire that his private patrimony be taxed like that of any other citizen. Thus the King's civil list, amounting to about $3,000,000 yearly, will be done away with or greatly diminished, and the monarch used almost entirely to administer the Crown properties or for charitable purposes.

It will have due regard to the vital interests of the community and will permit any mitigations which it may consider required by the food situation in Austria.

As regards the territorial limits established for the republic of Austria, the allied and associated powers are unable to admit any modifications in the decisions already communicated. These decisions were arrived at after months of careful examinations, and the observations furnished by the Austrian delegation have been found to contain no arguments which had not been considered by the conference.

Creation of New States. The allied and associated Powers endeavored to determine the boundaries of the States formed out of the late Austro-Hungarian monarchy in such an equitable way as to bring a lasting peace to Central Europe. Thus they have drawn for the republics of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, and the new state of Bohemia, and so far as Austria is concerned, they have only departed from this frontier in two minor instances, where the new state appeared, and still appear, to outweigh the claims of the Austrian republic.

In the case of Yugoslavia, the allied and associated Powers have, so far as was possible, followed the admitted linguistic boundary. As regards Hungary, they have included within Austria certain German-speaking districts, hitherto included within the Hungarian frontier.

They believe that the frontiers now arranged are those which will be most equitable to the peoples concerned, including Austria, without exposing them to anarchy or internecine competition.

As regards Tyrol, the allied and associated Powers have been impressed by the fact that for decades the Italian people have suffered from a menace deliberately directed at their heart by the retention in Austro-Hungarian hands of military outposts commanding the Italian plains. In these circumstances they have thought it best to accord to Italy the natural frontier of the Alps, which she has long demanded.

Small Communities Protected. The allied and associated Powers would further remind the Austrian delegation that the treaty of peace makes special provisions for the protection of small communities, such as New Austria. It will no longer be possible for powerful empires to threaten with impunity the political and economic life of their lesser neighbors.

The clauses relating to ports and waterways guarantee to Austria under international sanction, access to the sea by land and water. The labor clauses will help to preserve the rights and raise the standards of life for the working population. The minority treaties will safeguard the political, religious and linguistic rights of the republic's minorities transferred to new sovereignty under the treaty of peace.

The league of nations is not the only protector of Austria's rights. The league, to which the allied and associated Powers hope that Austria will be admitted at an early date, will not only protect the rights of all signatories to the treaty, but creates a means whereby by such adjustments as facts or changing circumstances may prove to be necessary, if the peace settlement itself can be peacefully and lawfully made. These features of the settlement proposed should not be forgotten.

Give Five Days for Answer. In conclusion, the allied and associated Powers wish to make it clear that the modifications which they have now made in the draft treaty are final. They wish further to state that if they have not replied specifically to all the points in the reply of the Austrian delegation, it is not because they have not taken them into careful consideration; nor must the absence of any reply be taken as acquiescence or in approval of the contents; nor must the present reply be taken as an authoritative interpretation of the text of the treaty.

The text of the treaty, which we send you today, following upon that of July 29 last, which had already undergone considerable changes since the original text of June 2, must be accepted or rejected in the exact terms in which it is now drafted. Consequently the allied and associated Powers require from the Austrian delegation within a period of five days, counting from the date of the present communication, a formal reply informing them that they are prepared to sign this treaty as it now stands. So soon as their declaration reaches the allied and associated Powers, arrangements will be made for the immediate signature of peace at St. Germain-en-Laye.

In default of such declaration within the period above stipulated, the armistice concluded on Nov. 3, 1918, shall be considered as having terminated, and the allied and associated Powers will take such steps as they may judge necessary to impose their conditions.

NEWSBOY'S KILLING PART OF 10 MEN'S ALL-NIGHT JOYRIDE

Police Make Six Arrests in Death of Elmer Campbell, 16, on South Broadway Aug. 24.

VISITED COUNTY WINE GARDENS

Driver of Auto Reveals Identity of Companions, Who Included "Yellow" and "No Legs Fritz."

An all-night joy ride of 10 men, with visits to St. Louis County wine gardens, ended in the automobile accident in which Elmer Campbell, a newsboy, was killed at Broadway and Chouteau avenue, at 5:30 a. m., Aug. 24.

The facts developed through the arrest of Fred Mueller of 1623A South Broadway and five other men last evening. Others are being sought. The six were arrested after a police search had located the automobile which was in the accident, which proved to be Mueller's machine. The headlight was broken, and there was a smudge of yellow on the front of the machine. This is believed to have come from the newsboy's yellow paper cart, which was dragged a block after the boy was struck.

Admits Having Accident. After the finding of the car, in a garage near Mueller's home, Mueller was arrested, and admitted that he had had an accident on Broadway on the morning of Aug. 24, and had not driven the car since. Mueller said the machine struck some object, but that the men with him told him no one had been hurt, and urged him to run ahead, which he did.

He named the men who were with him so far as he knew their names. Three he knew only by nicknames, and one he was unable to designate by any name.

Others Being Sought. The men arrested were Tony Heber, barber, 2617 South Broadway; William Hebert, machinist, 1319 Ann avenue; Ferd Jorns, teamster, 2023 Menard street; Walter Tiefenbrun, teamster, 615 Lafayette avenue; and Louis Krah, shoemaker, 1621 South Third street. Three others known as "Yellow," "No Legs Fritz" and "Rolla" are being sought.

The others denied having advised Mueller to drive on. Krah said he was asleep and was awakened by the accident. He said the party had been driving through the county visiting wine gardens.

Elmer Campbell was 16 years old and lived with his widowed mother at 405 Cerre street.

"Potato King" Plans Negro Colony. Special to the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3.—Henry Ewing, negro "potato king," who has been promoting a back-to-the-farm movement for negroes in Kansas City for two months, goes to Arkansas and other Southern points today in furtherance of his plans. Through the efforts of a financier here, Ewing has obtained an option on 30,000 acres of Arkansas land, which he hopes to colonize with negroes, selling the land on easy payments in small tracts.

FARIS REPORTED SELECTED FOR FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

period of uncertainty that followed the announcement of Judge Dyer's intended retirement.

Persons who talked with the Attorney-General about the St. Louis appointment brought away the impression that he feared embarrassment to the administration if at this time he should appoint to the Federal judgeship a lawyer identified in the public mind with brewery or liquor interests. He did not, however, so far as can be learned, make a blanket pronouncement against all who had ever served such interests in a legal capacity.

Judge Faris Was Born in Missouri and Graduated From University. Judge Faris' home is at Caruthersville. He is a Democrat. He was born in Mississippi County, Mo., Oct. 3, 1854, and was graduated from the Missouri State University in 1880, after which he took a law course at Washington University, St. Louis. He was admitted to the bar at Charleston, Mo., in 1891.

He represented Pemiscott County in the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, was Prosecuting Attorney for six years and a member of the board of curators of the University of Missouri from 1903 to 1909.

He was elected judge of the Twenty-eighth Judicial Circuit in November, 1910. He resigned in October, 1912 and a month later was elected to the Supreme Court of Missouri.

Judge Faris at one time was endorsed by many Missourians for successor to the late Judge Elmer S. Adams as a member of the United States Court of Appeals.

Judge Dyer Expected to Go on With U. R. Receivership Case. In Federal Court circles today there was some discussion as to whether Judge Dyer would continue to preside in the United Railways receivership case after a new judge is appointed. Though Judge Dyer has retired from active duty on the bench, he is still in service for assignment or emergency work, and it was said at the Federal Building that it would be the logical proceeding for him to continue to administer the United Railways case, if physically able to do so.

The division of duties between Judge Dyer and the new judge will depend on their own agreements, and if no agreement is reached, the case will be left to Judge Walter H. Sanborn, the senior judge of the circuit, whose home is in St. Paul, Minn.

Appointment of clerks and other court attaches will be made by the new judge.

"Was believed by many to be an adroit move to shift responsibility for industrial unrest to Congress and to shield the powerless incompetency of the Department of Justice in dealing with profiteers."

Representative Henry T. Rainey, Democrat of Illinois, replying to Roosevelt, said the Republicans were responsible for high living costs. All the legislation passed this session, he said, has tended to increase the high cost of living, rather than decrease it. Three tariff measures passed by the House, he said, would tend to raise prices, which was admitted by the Republicans, he added, but qualified by the supposition that production would be stimulated.

RENNER GOES TO VIENNA WITH TREATY

Probably Will Ask for More Time and Supreme Council May Give Extension for Signature.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Sept. 3.—Chancellor Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation, left last night for Vienna with the peace treaty, which was handed to the Austrians yesterday.

He indicated that probably he would ask for an extension of time, as the Austrian General Assembly would meet on Saturday and Sunday to discuss the terms.

Sept. 3.—Chancellor Kautsky, head of the Austrian peace mission, left last night for Vienna to sign the peace treaty, which was to the Austrians yesterday, stated that probably he would extend the time, as the General Assembly would meet Saturday and Sunday to discuss the treaty.

The Supreme Council.
The covering letter to the allied powers explains the necessity of admitting that the Austrians do not share the responsibility of the war or that they escape making reparations to the victors. The signing of the peace treaty is considered an essential step. Careful consideration, it is said, has been given to the proposals of the Austrians, and some modifications, which would, the text of the treaty and yesterday must be confirmed. Five days are allowed for the signing of the peace treaty.

COUNCIL WILSON CALL MAY BE IN SESSION MONTHS

Conference of Farmers, Labor Leaders and Employers Likely to Eclipse Congress for a Time.

DESIGNED TO CHECK
PERILOUS MOVEMENT

President Will Nominate Representatives From Public at Large After Other Interests Select Men.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1919.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Wilson leaves Washington with the two most important problems of his whole administration unsettled—the domestic labor crisis and the proposed entrance of the United States into a partnership of nations to preserve world peace.

During his absence the Senate will debate but probably not vote finally on the peace treaty and league of nations. Also, the country will be preparing for the most vital struggle since the civil war—a peaceful solution of the acute difficulties in American industry. The President has called a conference not between capital and labor, but "between labor and those who direct labor." To him the world peace situation and the domestic labor crisis are intertwined. He believes the Senate's failure to ratify the treaty has added to the uncertainty of industrial conditions. He proposes to tell the country why he thinks so.

Meanwhile, the President believes his action in calling a domestic labor conference will have a salutary effect, that it will bring about a truce, that it will prevent all strikes while the country is in the midst of the world peace situation.

Between 40 and 45 delegates will gather at the White House about Oct. 4, and discuss every phase of industrial conditions, wages, cost of living, strikes and the general idea of bringing about an equilibrium between the two contending classes—the employers and the employees.

Unrest Has Been Growing.
The truth is that America has in recent weeks shown dangerous symptoms. Social unrest has been growing. Radical labor leaders have been getting possession of the reins of authority in various sections of the country where conservative labor leaders hitherto governed. The demands under these new leaders have often been wholly out of proportion to other parts of the country and other industries. No general principle of uniformity of action has been possible.

Sam Gompers, for example, controls one section of America's labor masses, but there are J. W. W.'s and mining organizations which have little regard for the American Federation of Labor. In the face of such chaos, the situation in America has been drifting toward an open break. Strikes affecting the cost of living and the welfare of the American people as a whole have been growing. It has been feared in some quarters, too, that the hitherto unheard-of idea of social revolution was making more headway among the inarticulate masses than the conservative labor leaders hitherto governed.

But Federal agencies here which have means of knowing what goes on in labor councils everywhere have learned of the strained relations. A truce was inevitable, or rather a negotiation, before the inevitable hostilities began. So the labor conference called by President Wilson is an effort to work out the problem by common counsel. Behind the conference will not be any force of law or no judicial compulsion. It will not be an arbitration or mediation, but an unofficial gathering of the heads of several classes most interested in industrial peace.

If agreement is reached, the recommendations to private industry will carry with them, however, even more compulsion than statute law. For presumably the whole moral force of American public opinion will back such an agreement.

Investment bankers, agricultural associations, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the American Federation of Labor will send about eight or nine delegates each. President Wilson will name about eight or nine to represent the public at large. About 45 in all will meet at the White House. The meetings will be open in the sense that they will be stenographically reported and the proceedings given to the press. In no other way might it be possible to get the attention of large masses of radically inclined labor who have been opposing Samuel Gompers and the Federation of Labor.

Session May Be Long One.
It is not known who will represent the people at large. It is quite likely that the President will pick some men known to be familiar with the so-called radical point of view and some men known to be representatives of the great body of conservative mind folks in America. None has yet been selected. The President wants to give the four classes an opportunity to pick whomever they wish and he will

CONGRESS' COMMITTEE WILL MEET PERSHING WATERWORKS MEN WILL VOTE ON STRIKE

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Gen. John J. Pershing, who is returning home aboard the transport Leviathan after more than two years' service in France as the commander of the American Expeditionary Force, will be formally welcomed at New York by a congressional committee. This was decided upon today by the joint committee of the House and Senate arranging to welcome the General back home.

The committee will consult with him regarding plans for his reception at the Capitol. Composing it will be Senators Wadsworth of New York, chairman of the Senate Military Committee; Warren of Wyoming, Gen. Pershing's father-in-law, and Representative Kahn, California, chairman of the House Military Committee; Republican Leader Mondell of Wyoming, and Democratic Leader Clark of Missouri.

Various plans for recognition by Congress of Gen. Pershing's service were discussed today, but final action was deferred until the General, War Department officials and others are consulted. Among proposals suggested was a joint session of Congress to be attended by leading Government officials.

Presentation of an ornate sword and some special congressional decoration to the General and the passage of resolutions expressing the thanks of Congress for his services also were discussed.

select his men from those not named on the other bodies.

There will be committees of course among the 45 and the conference will be in session for several weeks, may be months, eclipsing in interest possibly the work of Congress itself.

The conference may recommend legislation but nobody can foretell just what it will recommend. Nor is the President prejudging the case. Should it be necessary to call on the military committee, the committee of the two houses, consultations of the character can be expected.

Month for Preparation.
Mr. Wilson feels that his absence from Washington will not affect the situation adversely, for, on the one hand, it will give a month's preparation among the leaders of the several classes and an opportunity for public opinion behind the decisions of the conference itself.

It is not to be expected that the conference will settle all labor troubles or that it will work out a detailed program. But it is intended that the President that certain general principles be agreed upon and accepted by employers and employees and be made a basis for the settlement of local disputes and industrial uprisings.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Blistches
The use of cream containing animal grease sometimes causes hair to grow. You run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair when you use ordinary mercuric cream. It is nothing better for a discolored skin, as the water actually absorbs the offensive cuticle—gradually, gently, so there is no irritation and no inconvenience. The discarded complexion naturally is replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy one—full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to get rid of a freckled, tanned, over-ripe, blotchy or pimply skin. Just procure an ounce of mercuric cream and use it night and day. It's the best cream for the face in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.—ADV.

WOODMEN CIRCLE WOMEN TO FIGHT INCREASED RATES

Decide to Assess Each of 8000 Members in City $1 to Pay Expense of Action in Court.

At a mass meeting of the women of Woodmen Circle, held last night at Cinderella Hall, 2733 Cherokee street, to protest against what was termed exorbitant increases in the insurance rates of the order, it was decided to assess each of the 8000 members in the city $1 for the expense of expressing the protest in the United States District Court in the shape of injunction proceedings to restrain the Grand Lodge from enforcing the new rate schedule.

The women also voted to hold a State convention in St. Louis shortly after Sept. 29, the date set for a State convention to be held at Sedalia by the Woodmen of the World for the same purpose, to ratify last night's action and to petition the State Insurance Commissioner to investigate the financial condition of the lodge, charges having been made at the meeting that funds had been handled irregularly.

Charges Discrimination.
W. H. Hughes, a deputy in the office of the United States Internal Revenue Collector and former city manager of the Woodmen of the World, explained the new rate schedule, which he said discriminated against the older members of the organization despite the fact that they had spent many years in helping to build up the lodge. Many gray haired women were at the meeting.

He quoted from the new rate sheet that a member 63 years old, who formerly paid a monthly premium of $1.09, would have to pay $4.47 monthly on a $1000 policy. Young persons were not hit so hard, he pointed out, as, for instance, a woman of 19 who formerly paid 72 cents on a $500 policy, would have to pay only 77 cents a month, or an increase of 5 cents. The increase proposed, he said, was comparatively low in the cases of members up to 52 years. After that, he said, the policy holders were considered substandard risks and the assessments were more than doubled and in many cases tripled accordingly.

Says They Voted Ignorantly.
At the national convention in Chicago in July, at which the new rate schedule was adopted, he said, the delegates did not understand the actuary's interpretation of the figures and consequently voted in ignorance of what they were doing.

References to the manner in which the Supreme Forester, William F. Fitzgerald, had been backed by a majority of the supreme officers, conducted the convention, were greeted with hisses. When Hughes mentioned that Fitzgerald's salary had been increased from $12,000 to $25,000 a year, there was a storm of protest, several elderly women shouting, "we've got to pay it."

Charges of reckless expenditures of money by the Supreme Council were based on a printed report, he said, that showed that in the two years $136,951.81 had been appropriated for office expenses. Of this $136,951.81 was expended for office furniture, the report showed. When that was added to the woman in the audience wanted to know if some of those whose insurance rates had been highly increased could have the cost of furniture.

Hughes charged that the records of the Supreme Council showed that the expense of having the books of the lodge examined by the Board of Managers was $6,168.55. He made the assertion that the same work could be done by certified accountants twice a year for $1000.

The explanation of the financial condition of the order was that the rate increase was necessary to insure the financial solvency of the order was ridiculed. It was pointed out that before the increase was suggested the order was insolvent to the tune of $7,500,000. It also was alleged by Hughes that two months before the increase was adopted the assets of the order were told by supreme officers that there would be no increase in insurance rates, as the financial condition of the order did not warrant such action.

Considered Bad Risks.
Mrs. Louise Breen, president of Central Grove, said that at the Chicago convention, when the actuary was asked if the new rates would not work a hardship on the older members, he replied that it made no difference, nobody cared about the old members because they were considered bad risks.

Women representing the 42 groves in St. Louis and others from several small towns in Missouri were present at last night's meeting. Mrs. Breen announced that she had received letters from members in 26 towns of the State saying that they would back up the St. Louis protest against the new rates.

Madison County Defeats Road Bonds.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HANNIBAL, Mo., Sept. 3.—Marion County defeated the good roads bond issue for $1,350,000 by 47 votes, belated returns today indicated. It is likely that another election will be called next month by the County Court to vote on the same proposition. A light vote was polled throughout the county.

PLAN HALF HOLIDAY TO ALLOW CHILDREN TO SEE PRESIDENT

Supt. Withers and President
Wolfner of Board of Education Refer Matter to Committee on Instruction.

Plans for a half-holiday for St. Louis school children Friday morning, to permit them to see President Wilson, have been approved today by Supt. Withers and President Wolfner of the Board of Education, subject to the action of the Committee on Instruction, at a meeting called for this afternoon.

An alternative plan is to hold partial school sessions that morning, after the children have had time to see the President. The defect of this plan is that the schools are at different distances from the line of the President's drive, and that a uniform time for opening could not be set.

Supt. Withers said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was opposed to granting half-holidays for any but the most important reasons. But he said that, as the children are to study the speeches of President Wilson in their textbooks, a view of the President himself would help to give meaning to what might otherwise be "cold type" to them.

Public interest in the President's all-day stay here is higher than on any recent occasion of the kind. President Wilson last visited St. Louis in 1916, before the presidential campaign, on a tour in which he was accompanied by his wife and daughter. President Taft made several visits here during his term. Theodore Roosevelt's visits, both during and after his service as President, were always occasions of enthusiasm. But in none of these cases did a presidential visit have such a background of world events as this one now scheduled.

To Talk on League Covenant.
President Wilson, as has been announced, comes here to speak on the covenant of the league of nations, which is the outgrowth of his long stay at the peace conference, and on the Government's measures to reduce the cost of living, the urgent domestic problem which he found upon his return. It is believed, from his late utterances, that he will link the two matters in his talks, and will argue that the cost of living can be effectively reduced only after the treaty of peace, including the league covenant, is ratified by the United States Senate.

The President's chief address, at the Coliseum Friday night, will be open to the public, the doors opening at 7:30 p. m., and no seats being reserved except those on the speaker's platform.

The only other talk he will make here will be at the luncheon at the Hotel Statler at 12:30 p. m., which will be under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, and which, because of the limits of seating space, is limited to members of that organization. The sale of tickets at $2 each to members of the chamber begins at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Opportunity to See President.
The chief opportunity for the general public to see the President will be on his drive from the parking place at the Coliseum to the Coliseum, which will be on the Union boulevard entrance of Forest Park, to the Statler, the drive beginning at 9:30 a. m. The sidewalks and curbs of Lindell boulevard and Locust street will be closed to traffic for the duration of the drive, and it is expected that the downtown street on the route will be crowded.

Between the time of the arrival at the hotel and luncheon, and between the luncheon and the Coliseum address, the President will not be interrupted by the reception committee, which he wishes the time for official business and rest. He has not indicated that he will leave the hotel during the day.

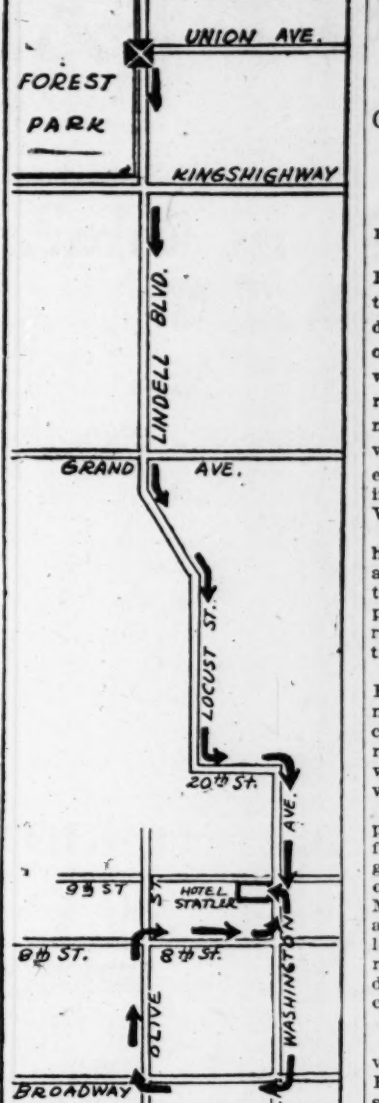

Each member of the Chamber of Commerce can purchase one ticket for the luncheon, until the limit of 1400, imposed by the seating space, is reached. The only women who will attend the luncheon are women members of the Chamber of Commerce, a comparatively small number, and the members of a small committee, which will be designated to sit with Mrs. Wilson at the speaker's table.

To Dine in Roof Garden.
The 40 members of the reception committee will also sit at the speaker's table. The main dining room will be the 16th floor roof garden of the Statler, and the overflow from this floor will be accommodated in a smaller dining hall on level above a part of the roof garden. Those who dine on the floor above will have standing-room in the overflow.

ROUTE OF PRESIDENT'S AUTO TRIP FRIDAY

THE route of President Wilson's automobile ride, starting at 9:30 a. m. Friday from Lindell avenue and Union boulevard, will be: East on Lindell to cutoff, then on Locust street to Twentieth; north on Twentieth to Washington avenue; east on Washington to Broadway; south on Broadway to Olive street, west on Olive to Eighth street, north on Eighth to Washington avenue, and west on Washington to Hotel Statler entrance.

The President's special train of six cars, as has been told, will arrive in St. Louis from Indianapolis at 4 a. m. Friday, and will run at once to Forest Park, the rear platform of the President's car being near Union boulevard. The President and Mrs. Wilson will take breakfast in their car, and the Reception Committee will appear shortly before 9:30. The committee is to assemble at the St. Louis Club at 8:30.

Presentations at Train.
The members of the committee, except the chairman and a few others, will not be presented to the President at the train, but will remain in their cars, and will act as hosts to the members of the presidential party, the secret service men, newspaper correspondents and stenographers.

Thomas H. Lovelace, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will drive the automobile in which the President and Mrs. Wilson will ride, both in the morning drive and in the drive to the Coliseum at night, and from the Coliseum to the President's train.

A committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which J. Parker Bailey is chairman, will have charge of certain details of the Coliseum gathering. The Coliseum is to be decorated.

The presidential suite will be on the fifteenth floor of the Statler, at the southwest corner, and the entire floor has been set apart for the presidential party.

A special committee has been named to receive the visiting newspaper correspondents, who will number about 30.

TREATY REPORT EARLY NEXT WEEK CERTAIN

Committee Will Close Hearings
Friday—Prospect of Harmony on Reservations.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—While Republican leaders hope to report the peace treaty to the Senate Friday, they said today that discussion of the resolution of ratification in which reservations will be incorporated would take some time and might delay a report until early next week. They believe it is certain, however, that the treaty will be brought into the Senate not later than next Wednesday.

The committee plans to close its hearings Friday and, probably after adopting Senator Fall's amendment to eliminate the labor section, will proceed to frame the resolution of ratification and the proposed reservations.

Progress was reported today among Republican leaders toward a "harmony program" on reservations. A compromise between the Republican reservationists is being negotiated with much prospect of success, it was said.

Republican Leader Lodge was reported to have accepted three of the four reservations proposed by the group headed by Senator McNary of Oregon, and dealing with the Monroe Doctrine, domestic questions and American withdrawal from the league of nations. The reservation reported still in disagreement is that dealing with article 10 of the league covenant.

Czechoslovakians Heard.
Representatives of the Czechoslovak League told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that spokesmen for the Hungarian-American federation had made malicious, false and misleading statements to the committee yesterday regarding the appointment of Hungarian territory.

Divisions of this territory assigned to Serbia, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, those portions in which the nations of those countries predominate was eminently fair and just, they said, and only the Magyar feudal aristocrats were attempting to prevent this destruction of their dream of a Magyar empire. The delegates appearing for the Slovak League were Edward Vazecy of Brooklyn, Ven. Svorc, a Cleveland lawyer, and O. D. Kereff of Pittsburgh.

They followed Alex. J. Johnson of Chicago, editor of a Swedish-American newspaper, who pleaded for the restoration of the Aland Islands to the Baltic, to Sweden, on the ground that the Alanders had already testified a very unanimous desire for return to Swedish sovereignty.

The committee will hear tomorrow reports from the American and foreign organizations in the United States as to territorial awards in which Jugoslavia is interested.

Magyars Are Assailed.
Svorc declared the Magyar agents in this country the same agents, he said, who had plotted dynamite outrages in American munition factories, were behind the extensive propaganda being conducted here in an attempt to prevent disarmament of the old Magyar empire. Part of the campaign, he added, was in the effort to create the impression that there existed a homogeneous country known as Hungary, inhabited by a homogeneous people. The fact was, he declared, that the 4,000,000 Magyars were attempting to impose "their brutal system of government" on 12,000,000 of other peoples.

"Can it be," he asked, "that the purse of Bela Kun has been opened for this propaganda?"

ACTORS' STRIKE SETTLEMENT
WITHIN 24 HOURS PREDICTED

Equity Members Base Belief on Report Managers Have Voted to Recognize Association.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Settlement of the actors' strike within 24 hours is confidently predicted today by members of the Actors' Equity Association. Those who believe the end of the controversy is at hand base their hopes on a report that the managers' association, by a vote of 16 to 6, decided last night to recommend recognition to the Actors' Equity Association, the principal point at issue, and that the Actors' Fidelity League, the rival of the Equity association, has temporarily ceased its campaign for membership.

George M. Cohan of the Producing Managers' Association and Frank Gilmore, secretary of the Equity association, each predicted last night that important developments were at hand which would terminate the strike. Meanwhile the managers have announced the reopening of five theaters within a few days, "strike or no strike."

Lucian Aubuchon, 304 South Third street, who was arrested yesterday, admitted to policemen today that he was one of two daylight burglars chased by Mrs. Rose Maravich, 2419 South Second street, from the home of Matt Naglich, 2401 South Second street, Aug. 4.

Mrs. Maravich had seen the men leaving with a grip and in the chase that followed they dropped the grip containing Naglich's clothes, but kept a watch taken from Naglich's room. Aubuchon, after being identified by Mrs. Maravich, gave the name of his companion in the robbery.

DEPARTMENT STORE TAILORS JOIN STRIKE

Business Agent of Union Says 70
Are Out and That 5 Shops Have Signed Men's Demands.

Tailors employed by large department stores and by women's garment stores in making alterations on women's clothing, have joined the ranks of the striking journeymen tailors, it was announced today by Frank Petrea, business agent for the strikers. Seventy of them are out, he said, and 40 tailors employed by women's custom clothing shops also are out.

At the same time five high-price shops, employing about 65 men, have signed the agreement strating the demands, and the men have gone back to work. Petrea said. The demand for which the men struck was to change the present system of paying for piecework to an eight-hour day and a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour. The strike, as is known, began yesterday morning.

374 Now Out.
The exact number of men out this morning was 374, according to Petrea, who added that a sixth employer had sent word to his men to call on him, and that he was ready to grant the demand with certain reservations. The men who struck were mostly those employed by high-price shops, as tailors working in popular-price houses had another local, and their employers granted the demand.

Petrea said that a number of strikers have been hired by the popular-price shops, and others could have got such jobs, but preferred to remain out in the hope that their old employers would sign the agreement.

Says Output Would Be Greater.
The claim of the employers that to grant the strikers' demand would greatly curtail output and result in a large increase in the price of tailored clothing was denied by Petrea. He said that under the old arrangement whereby a tailor took the work to his home he did it all himself. Thus, he said, a tailor who produced clothing which had been done by a novice, took up the attention of an expert tailor.

Under the proposed plan, each tailor would have a helper who would perform the simple tasks, and who would be paid a smaller salary. Petrea said tailors who had tried the plan had admitted that they could produce clothing cheaper than they could under the old schedule.

There remain today fewer than 20 shops that are holding out against the journeymen's demands, Petrea said.

Employers Standing Pat.
W. J. Romer, spokesman for the employers, said today that none of the five employers mentioned by Petrea were members of the Merchant Tailors Association, nor was the sixth who had sent for his employees. Romer said that the organization had "weeded out" all the members who had indicated a disposition to grant the strikers' demands.

"There are 24 of us left, and we are going to stick," he said. "We will fight this thing to a finish. We know that most of our good men have been bluffed into this strike by the poorer class of workmen."

$50 BILL GRABBED FROM BAR

Fred S. Dalton, living at the Statler Hotel, last night caused the arrest of Joseph Lampert, 52 years old, of Alton, after a $50 bill that Dalton had laid on the bar in a saloon at 800 St. Charles street had disappeared. Dalton was inviting the "house" to have a drink with him.

The money was found by policeman secreted between Lampert's underwear and trousers. He said he was taking care of Dalton's money for "safekeeping." Dalton declared he was able to take care of his own cash.

CONGREGATIONS OF GERMAN METHODISTS HERE TO UNITE

Will Have New Church Building in New Location, Conference at Warrenton Announces.

Four German Methodist congregations of St. Louis are to unite, and are to have a new church building in a new location. This was announced at the conference of German Methodist churches in Warrenton, Mo., at which Bishop Quayle of St. Louis has been officiating.

The four churches are Salem, at Page boulevard and Pendleton avenue; Elmhurst, at 4423 Elmhurst avenue; Gano, at 4300 Gano avenue, and Nulsen Mission, California avenue and Rutger street. In the merger, it is planned to increase the use of the English language in the church services, lessening the use of German as the older German-speaking members grow fewer.

ENROLLMENT IN 131 PUBLIC SCHOOLS 83,028

On Basis of First Day's Figures, Total of 90,000 Is Expected by Next Monday.

The enrollment in the 131 public schools of St. Louis yesterday was 83,028, which exceeded the estimate of 81,000 and exceeded the first day registration last year by 1091. These figures are basis for prediction by Board of Education officials that a second census to be taken next Monday will show an enrollment of 90,000.

The enrollment in the six high schools was 2280, compared with 7335 last year, and in the 125 grade schools 73,522, compared with 72,542 last year. Soldan had the highest attendance among the high schools with 1727, which was 127 greater than last year, though, by re-districting Soldan territory has been narrowed and added to Central. The enrollment at other high schools was: Central, 1653; Cleveland, 1436; McKinley, 1385; Yeatman, 1225, and Sumner, 811.

The attendance at Adams school was greatest among the elementary schools, 1270. Others which had more than 1000 were: Ashland 1163, Bates 1026, Birchler street 1014, Clay 1016, Clinton 1095, Cote Brilliante 1011, Fanning 1140, Glasgow 1006, Harrison 1006, Hodges 1014, Laclede 1019, Lafayette 1019, Mulvanphy 1047, Shaw 1075, Sigel 1084, Webster 1067.

The total registry of the schools last year, which does not mean the highest attendance at any one time but the total of pupils who attended for any part of the year, was 105,795. The prediction is made that the total this year will reach 115,000. The figures show that more than half the increase on opening day for all the 131 schools was in the six high schools.

Certificates for employment were issued to 47 children on the first day. There were 84 such certificates issued on the first day of 1918 and 87 on the first day of 1917.

MILK DISTRIBUTERS AGREE TO HIGHER WHOLESALE PRICE

Cost Goes Up 55 Cents a Hundred Pounds, With Prospect of Increase of 15-Cent Retail Rate.

Following an all-day meeting in East St. Louis yesterday of Southern Illinois milk producers and St. Louis distributors, the latter agreed to pay the producers $3.65 a hundred pounds (11.63 gallons) for this month, an increase of 55 cents a hundred pounds over last month. The producers recently demanded $3.75, which the distributors rejected and then made a counter offer of $3.49.

Milk under the August price retailed at 15 cents a quart. The distributors have said that any increase made by the producers would have to be met in this city by advancing the retail price. The distributors said today they had not yet figured what the retail price shall be under the agreement reached yesterday.

In the report of his recent investigation of milk prices, Park Commissioner Cunliff stated that an addition of one cent a quart to the retail price of milk would amount to $370,000 a year.

FUMES POISON BOY WHEN HE DROPS TRAY OF STRYCHNINE

Charles Raymond Mesnier, 17 years old, of 517 Fillmore street was taken to the city hospital after he lost consciousness on a Broadway car at the southern loop, 8600 South Broadway, at 7 p. m. yesterday. Doctors at the hospital said he was suffering from gas poisoning.

Mesnier, after being revived, told policemen he had dropped a tray of strychnine while at the Mallinckrodt Chemical Co., where he is employed, and supposed the fumes from the poison had caused his condition. He boarded the car to go home, but when he arrived at Fillmore street was too ill, he said, to leave and remained in his seat. His condition is said to be serious.

What's stylish for fall?

JUST about one year ago, the stylish thing with young men was "olive drab;" the "Navy blue;" a drive at "Fritz;" a shot at a "sub."

Now "the boys" are back in civil life; they want all the good style they can get; we have it for them; here's information about the newest ideas for fall.

Belted suits are here in new designs and variations.

Yokes, plaits, slanting, vertical, and crescent pockets are all lively touches.

Double-breasted suits are favorites too; in one-, two-, and three-button models; some with belts; some without belts.

Coats are a little longer; waists are a little higher; natural shoulders, higher and wider lapels, giving the wiry, deep-lunged, athletic look that the young men want.

Now about price and quality; all clothes cost good money; you'd better be sure to get quality equal to the price. You can get it in our clothes; all-wool, careful tailoring; guaranteed to satisfy—money back if they don't.

PRESIDENT REPORTS ON $50,000,000 FUND

Of Money Granted for Discretionary Use, $2,899,429 Remained on Last Aug. 5.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Of the $50,000,000 war fund granted to President Wilson last year by Congress for his discretionary use, $2, $89,429.29 remained on last Aug. 5,
the House Appropriations Committee was informed yesterday in a report from the President.

Preceding the receipt of the statement from the White House, the committee had recommended the adoption of a resolution calling for an itemized statement of expenditures made from both the $50,000, 000 fund and the $100,000,000 appropriation given the President at the outbreak of the war. Later, however, when Chairman Good of the Appropriations Committee called attention of the House to the report, he said that a final accounting was expected later regarding the $100, 000,000 fund.

More than a score of governmental departments and agencies received money from the $50,000,000 fund, the gross allotment aggregating more than $27,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was reimbursed, apparently being temporary allowances.
Many of the important expenditures have been made known in the past.
The largest amount went to the State Department, it receiving $12, $21,245, of which $4,000,000 was for the Transiberian and Chinese Eastern railways.

Peace Conference Expenses.
Some side lights on peace conference expenses are contained among the minor allotments. Under the date of Feb. 14 last, Bernard M. Baruch was listed for $150,000 "to the peace conference," the State Department on last Dec. 18, $50,000
"for American Commission to Negotiate Peace," and four days later the State Department got $100,000 for preparation for the conference, and on Dec. 30 it received $50,000 for "political intelligence service" at the conference. Brigadier General
Churchill of the Military Intelligence Bureau and his party to the conference were listed for an allotment of $20,000. Another allotment for the conference was dated Feb. 15, and was for $750,000 for "expenses peace commission."

The Treasury Department received $10,813,327, including $3,228,000 for the War Risk Insurance Bureau, but the department repaid $1,437,675 of the sum.

Net allotments of more than $1-000,000 were made as follows: Allen
Property Custodian, $1,071,451;
Committee Public Information, $3-$00,000; Grain Corporation, $5,000-
000; Sugar Equalization Board, $5-$00,000; War Trade Board, $1,150-
000; Shipping Board, $2,500,000;
War Trade Board, which received $5,000,000 for its trade bureau for improving economic conditions in Russia, was listed as having returned $4,025,000.

$3,000,000 for Russians.
Five million dollars given to the State Department was for supplies for the civilian population of the Arctic, and Russia, and a similar amount was given the Treasury and Agriculture Departments to aid American farmers in drouthstricken regions.

Two items of entertainment, incurred for foreign guests, also were included in the statement, there being $13,000 allotted for such purpose for Sir Eric Geddes and his party and $10,000 for Prince Axel of Denmark and his party.

For the repatriation of Gen. Haller's Polish troops an allotment of $50,000 was listed, as also was $25-$000 for Lieutenant-Colonel Riggs' mission to Russia, and $25,000 for Capt. Gherardi's mission to Germany.

RESTAURANT CASHIER IS SOUGHT

The police department yesterday was asked to arrest John R. Moran, 22 years old, cashier of a Thompson restaurant at 605 Market street, following his alleged disappearance with $200 in cash belonging to the restaurant.

Albert Williams, 4154 DeTonty street, city manager for the Thompson Restaurant Co., said that Moran was to have taken the money to a downtown bank, but that inquiry disclosed that he did not make a deposit.

At 105 North Tenth street, where Moran roomed, the proprietor said that he departed hurriedly yesterday afternoon, stating that he had been assigned to take charge of two of the company's restaurants at Decatur, Ill.

CAR STRIKE AT COLUMBUS, O.

Motormen and Conductors Unexpectably Quit Work.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Columbus awoke this morning to find an unexpected strike of motormen and conductors on its street car lines.
Thousands of workers, who were forced to walk or ride to work on trucks and trolleys, were late in reaching their work.

The union carmen stated the strike had been called to obtain better working conditions and higher pay, but their demands had not been made public. They said the strike of the motormen and conductors was not in sympathy with striking linemen of the street car company. Yesterday the men refused to run cars under broken trolley wires repaired by nonunion linemen.

A Six-Per Cent Investment of Superior Merit

The First Mortgage Real Estate Serial Notes of the Emporium Realty Company offer the unusual opportunity of investing $500 or multiples at SIX PER CENT secured by property in the downtown retail business district of St. Louis. The property is under a long-term lease to one of St. Louis' foremost department stores. Under the terms of the lease, the rental is to be paid monthly in advance, to the Mercantile Trust Company, as Trustee, to be used only for the payment of the interest and a substantial part of the principal each six months. By this plan the mortgage is reduced semi-annually and the margin of security grows greater.

Investors who are seeking the maximum of interest, in keeping with business prudence, with the minimum of risk, should obtain particulars concerning this attractive investment. The notes are owned by the Mercantile Trust Company, having been bought after a thorough investigation of the security. First Mortgage notes have been sold by us to investors in every part of the United States, without the loss of one dollar, principal or interest. Notes delivered anywhere in the United States at our risk.

WOMAN COMPLAINS AFTER SIXTH ROBBERY IN 5 WEEKS

Tells Policemen of Losses of Money From Different Hiding Place After Each Theft.

Mrs. Anna Hoffmann, 2855A Missouri avenue, told policemen last night that she was tired of being robbed every other day or so and asked that special efforts be made to catch the thief who had taken her cash six times in the last five weeks. She said she had hidden the money in so many different places around the house, trying to thwart the thief, that her resources in that line are exhausted.

The last visit of the thief, she said, was yesterday, when he took $15 from a vase on a mantle in the front room. It was gone when she returned home from a neighboring grocery. On the first occasion, five weeks ago, she said, the thief had taken $10 from a bedroom drawer. A few days later $5 disappeared from a kitchen drawer. On the third and fourth visits $10 was taken from her hiding place and on the fifth visit a week ago $25 disappeared from a cupboard and $1 from a drawer.

DIPLOMAT REPUDIATES STATEMENT OF FOLK

British Charge d'Affaires Says Few Egyptians Fought for England in War.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Ronald Lindsay, Charge d'Affaires of the British embassy, today made public a letter to Governor C. Hall, associate editor of The Montgomery Advertiser, Montgomery, Ala., in reply to an inquiry as to "how many Egyptian soldiers fought under the British flag during the war, and what was the number of casualties suffered by them?"

The inquiry, it is said, was prompted by the brief recently presented by Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri, to the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, in which Folk called attention to the fact that 1,000,000 Egyptian troops fought on the side of the allies.

Fought Under Egyptian Flag.
"The British Government," wrote Lindsay, who was in Egypt during the war, "has carefully avoided deceiving Egyptian sovereignty. Egyptian soldiers always serve under the Egyptian and not under the British flag. The Union Jack does not fly in Egypt except over the British military establishments in the country, elsewhere the distinctive Egyptian flag is displayed. To answer your question literally, no Egyptian soldier joined the British colors."

"Of course, this is only a partial statement. In February, 1915, when the Turkish army attacked Egypt, a battery of Egyptian artillery joined the British force defending the line of the Suez Canal. The enemy's attack developed just opposite this battery, the members of which managed their guns in an able manner and assisted in the repulse of the enemy. I believe they lost two killed and a half a dozen wounded."

Aided Behind the Lines.
"No other Egyptian armed forces were in action during the recent war, but later on, three or four Egyptian battalions guarded lines of communication in Sinai while Gen. Allenby was conducting his campaign in Syria and an Egyptian detachment was at one time in the Hedjaz. Neither of these forces was ever under fire."

In addition to this, large numbers of Egyptians were enrolled in labor and transport corps auxiliary to the British forces. These men were enlisted for short terms of three to six months, and did the manual and unskilled labor for Gen. Allenby's forces. As such their services were of high value, and they released for the fighting line men who, otherwise, would have been engaged in the rear.

"How many of these men passed through the labor corps cannot be stated, but the total enlistments at one moment amounted to between 80,000 and 90,000. Of the labor corps men some came under fire while digging trenches and transporting stores and ammunition near the front and casualties were suffered. I cannot give the figures authoritatively, but I believe there were altogether about 1500 killed and wounded during the four years of the war."

SEA GIVES UP "PIECES OF EIGHT"

Coins Are Salvaged From Spanish Galleon Sunk Years Ago.
LONDON, Sept. 3.—The salvage operations on the Spanish galleon which sank long ago off Tobago, Scotland, have been successful during the last few days. Spanish silver coins recovered from the deep have been treated with acid and of five submitted to an expert, three have been declared to be "pieces of eight."

An American has offered to buy all plates and salvers that can be recovered from the galleon and pay $750 an ounce for them if they are in good preservation. Should any of the plate be sacred pieces used by the priests on board in celebrating mass, the American purchaser is prepared to offer a much higher price.

HE LIKED WORKHOUSE STEW

Negro, Released, Returns Three Times, Asking for Food.

Frank Roberts, a negro who had completed 10 days' sentence, yesterday returned to the workhouse for the third time begging to be permitted to "occupy room 35 just 16 days more." I like that stew," he added.

He said that for two days after his release he had had nothing to eat. Supt. Morgan gave him a supply of food, 10 cents, called a policeman and instructed that the negro be put on a street car and the conductor told to see that he did not get off before reaching Market street.

Women's Autumn Suits Extraordinary Values
$39.75
St. Louis women will be quick to take advantage of this unusual sale which was made possible by a fortunate purchase from one of the leading Suit manufacturers of the East.
There are Autumn models in which are combined the popular materials of the season and Fashion's latest innovations.
It would be difficult to describe in detail each of these smart semi-tailored models, such a variety of novel touches are used. The materials are broadcloth, tricotine, and wool velour.
Some of the styles are belted with the convertible collars to be worn either high or low. Novelty pockets, buttons, inverted plaits, stitching and braiding are all employed to make these Suits more attractive. There are plain and fancy linings.
Remember the quantity is limited, and it will be to your advantage to make your selections early tomorrow.
Women's Suit Shop—Third Floor.

Sale of a Sample Line of New Autumn Sweaters $10 (Less Than 1/2 the Regular Price)
We were able to secure only a limited number of these extraordinarily pretty Sweaters, but these include many new smart styles and colorings that will please women of taste.
There are only a few of each style shown, so there is an opportunity to secure an attractive sweater at a most moderate price.
There are many days just between warm weather and cold when there is nothing so serviceable or comfortable as a smart sweater.

MCCAMBRIDGE CASE TO GO TO GRAND JURY

Madison Chief of Police Gives $5000 Bond After Arrest on Charge of Assault to Murder.

The case of Patrick McCambridge, chief of police of Madison, Ill., charged in a warrant with assault to commit murder, probably will be taken up by the Madison County Grand Jury at Edwardsville next month.

McCambridge yesterday afternoon gave bond for $5000, signed by J. Henderson, a meat dealer, and George Darling, a member of the county Board of Supervisors. The warrant was issued by Justice Sowell of Granite City, on the information of I. O. West, a labor organizer, who was present when McCambridge "shot up" a labor meeting in East Madison last Wednesday night.

Joseph Wedgie, who was shot through the left lung while standing outside the labor meeting, is in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, and is believed to be recovering. McCambridge continued to hold the office of Chief of Police, and Mayor Garesche of Madison made no announcement as to whether he would be suspended. Garesche is paymaster for the American Car and Foundry Co. at its Madison plant. The meeting which McCambridge dispersed, by the "shooting-up" process, was attended by employees of the car company, whom organizers were attempting to enroll in a union.

The purpose of McCambridge and the policemen who accompanied him to the labor meeting, according to one of the latter, "Big Bill" Street, was to prevent Madison from getting into the control of labor-union organizers from Granite City.

325 JOIN NEW LEGION POST

Service Men in Vicinity of Seventh and Souldard Organize.

Former service men in the vicinity of Seventh and Souldard streets last night organized a post of the American Legion at the Souldard branch library, naming it the Tebb-Hammon Post in honor of Milo Tebbe and Daniel Hammon, youths of the neighborhood who gave their lives in the war. The charter roll is about 325.

Officers elected were: John Hurbau, chairman; Harry V. Merrill, vice chairman; Thomas R. Smith, secretary; Steven Hearty, treasurer; Dr. Charles Reider, surgeon; Frank Wynn, master at arms; and Dr. L. H. Renfrow, secretary of the municipal committee. The next meeting will be Sept. 16 at the Souldard Library.

HUSBAND LEAVES HER ALONE

So 20-Year-Old Wife Tries to End Her Life.

Mrs. Myrtle Johns, 20 years old, 1410 Wittenberg avenue, found on Wittenberg avenue at 9 o'clock last night suffering from poison, told policemen she had tried to end her life because her husband, Bert Johns, had gone out earlier in the evening and had not taken her with him. She took three tablets of poison, she said. Her condition was pronounced serious at the city hospital.

Mrs. Catherine Odum, 46, of 3017A North Leffingwell avenue, swallowed poison at her home at 7 p. m. yesterday after she had quarreled with her husband, Richard, over domestic affairs. She was taken to the city hospital.

AUTO RUNS INTO CHINA SHOP

Mrs. Pauline C. Kostuba, 800 South Seventh street, was slightly injured at 3 p. m. yesterday, when, to avoid a collision with the automobile of the Rev. Hubert Brockman, 2220 Russell avenue, she turned her machine into the curb and ran over the sidewalk and into a china store conducted by Louis Bushet, 1505 South Broadway. The Rev. Mr. Brockman was pulling away from the curb as Mrs. Kostuba approached. China and cut glass in the store window were damaged $100.

City News in Brief

ANNOUNCEMENTS

THE RELATIVES' AUXILIARY OF THE eighth division, will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the city hall. The auxiliary is to formulate plans for the entertainment of former soldiers. All returned soldiers will be welcome.

THERE WILL BE A PUBLIC BAND concert on the grounds of the city auditorium at 8000 Arsenal street at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Postponing a Band will play and the soloist will be Mrs. E. A. Mitchell.

MISCELLANEOUS

A HORSE WAS INCINERATED AND A wagon, stock of a carpenter shop and other articles destroyed at 11 o'clock last night when fire wrecked the stable, harness and workshop in the rear of 1021-23 North Broadway occupied by Charles H. Lech, a painter and the Netzel Cabinet Co. The horse belonged to Lech. The loss was estimated at $500.

STEPHEN BERNARD, 8 YEARS OLD, son of Michael Bernard, 1413 Blair avenue, was taken to the city hospital suffering from a scalp wound after he was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas M. Brady, 4232 W. Louis avenue, at Ninth and Chestnut streets yesterday morning. The boy was crossing the street, strayed into the path of the machine, according to witnesses. His condition is not serious.

POLICE ITEMS

SAMUEL GORDON, PROPRIETOR OF A shoe store at 1019 Market street, last night asked police to investigate the theft of an unlocked safe in the rear of the store yesterday afternoon. He said a evidently dressed young woman had purchased a pair of shoes at the store and after she had asked to be allowed to wash her hands. She was directed to the rear of the store to a washroom adjoining the safe. Shortly after she had departed, Gordon said, he missed the cash.

The maid has left—bid her successor come today through Post-Dispatch WANT ADS.

U. R. PLEA FOR 2 FARE ZONES IN COUNTY DENIED

Plan Would Have Increased Cost of Ride to Kirkwood From 11 to 22½ Cents.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 2.—The State Public Service Commission, after a brief hearing yesterday, refused to grant the request of the United Railways Co. that the Meramec Highlands line in St. Louis County be divided into two zones with the western city limits of Webster Groves as the dividing line.

At the present rate of a 6-cent fare in the city and 5 cents in the county, the zoning plan would have increased the county and city fare from Kirkwood from 11 cents to 16 cents. With the proposed 7½-cent ticket rate, the fare would have been increased to 22½ cents.

Col. A. T. Perkins, general manager of United Railways, offered a compromise under which the company would sell a title home by only good from Kirkwood to Broadway in St. Louis.

Perkins also offered to modify the company's demand for a 40-cent fare to St. Charles by selling 10 tickets for $3.75. The present rate is 25 cents. No indication was given as to what disposition the commission will make of the company's request for a higher fare on the St. Charles line.

Dr. Charles S. Boone, pastor of a Baptist church; Joseph M. Wilson, City Engineer of Kirkwood; the Rev. Father A. D. Sutton of St. Joseph's College, and Thomas Masterson, an insurance agent, testified that if the fare to Kirkwood should be greatly increased there would be depreciation of property value and many residents would be forced to move.

PERMANENT RANK FOR PERSHING

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The House bill conferring the permanent rank of General upon Gen. Pershing, in recognition of his service abroad, was passed by the Senate late yesterday without debate or a record vote, and now goes to President Wilson.

It is planned to have the President sign the bill today before he leaves on his speaking trip. It is thought that the President will send the nomination to the Senate for confirmation at once, so that when Gen. Pershing lands at New York next Sunday or Monday he will be the possessor of a title borne by only three other military leaders in the history of the nation.

ANNA HELD'S COSTUME SOLD

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Old time theater goes will remember Anna Held 20 years ago, in the heyday of her beauty, when she sang "Pretty Molly Shannon" to the delight of Broadway. The costume she wore, a street boy's ragged suit of brown corduroy, was one of the charming mementoes of the little actress in the sale of her "personal effects" which opened yesterday at the Waldorf. It was the only old costume in the exhibit, and apparently had been preserved as a matter of sentiment.

The sale includes her collection of jewels, which are shown by appointment at the office of Thomas Keogh, an attorney. Charles F. Hanlon of San Francisco, Miss Held's personal attorney, is in the city to direct the disposal of the property. The amount received will be held in trust for Miss Held's daughter, Liane Carrera, until she is 25 years old. The biggest sale yesterday was of a necklace of 43 matched pearls. The purchaser was Charles Roberts, a jeweler, and the consideration was $52,000.

Alleged Woman Swindler Missing.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 3.—Mae Powell, alias Mrs. A. McCree, arrested here in July charged with swindling 14 banks in as many cities of Illinois and Missouri, is missing from her room in this city and it is believed by her parents, who are on her bond for $1000, that she will not be on hand for her trial at Macomb.

I. W. W. Organizer Held for Trial.

By the Associated Press.
LAKOTA, Ind., Sept. 2.—William J. Hogan, an I. W. W. organizer, was bound over to the District Court today for trial on the charge of attempting to murder two Great Northern trainmen. Three others, alleged I. W. W. members, J. E. Curtis, Thomas Quigley and John Downs, are accused of compounding a crime, and are held for trial with Hogan.

N-U-C-O-A NUT MARGARINE

THE CREAM OF THE COCONUT
NUCOA Nut Margarine is manufactured by the largest manufacturers of coconut products in the world. Coconut meat is crushed, and the rich, nutritive oil is extracted under immense pressure. It could not be finer. It is just pure coconut-butter. Peanut oil is added to secure the proper consistency. These two products are churned in cultured pasteurized milk to develop that peculiar delicate flavor characteristic of the highest class creamery product. Efficiency and care mark every step in the manufacture of NUCOA Nut Margarine.

WIFE USES POKER IN ATTEMPT TO EFFECT RECONCILIATION

Policemen Arrest Couple and Landlady Who Interfered to Save Her Furniture.

Policemen called to the home of Mrs. Frieda Mauterer, 34 years old, 1906 North Fourteenth street, at 5 p. m. yesterday, after they had been told a woman was "breaking up" the household furniture, arrested Mrs. Mauterer, 43, 1633 Hogan street; her husband, Henry, a baker, 40 years old, living at the Mauterer home, and Mrs. Mauterer. They were all cross-charged with peace disturbance after visiting the dispensary to have numerous cuts and bruises attended.

The policemen were told that Pausch some weeks ago separated from his wife and took up his abode in a room at the home of Mrs. Mauterer. The wife said she went there yesterday to effect a reconciliation, taking a stove poker along. When Pausch refused to listen to her pleadings, policemen were told Mrs. Pausch first hit him and then the furniture.

Mrs. Mauterer interfered to save her belongings and she was injured about the face.

CLAYTON NURSE BACK AFTER 2 YEARS ABROAD

Miss Nellie Heinzelman Served in Russia, Hungary, Germany and France.

After serving as a Red Cross nurse in Russia, Hungary, Germany and France, Miss Nellie Heinzelman has returned to her home, 102 Delmar avenue, Clayton, wearing the four service chevrons to which her 25 months of service entitles her.

While in France she was attached to Mobile Hospital No. 4, commanded by Maj. Malvern Clouston of St. Louis, and composed largely of members recruited from Hospital Unit 21, the Washington University outfit. It was during this service that it fell to Mobile Hospital No. 4 to treat the wounded men of the famous "Lost Battalion." The unit was stationed then at Cheppy, where it went following the capture of the town by the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry.

Entered Service in 1915.

It was in 1915 that Miss Heinzelman answered the call of the Red Cross for volunteer nurses, and went to an American Red Cross hospital at Budapest, Hungary, where she nursed wounded soldiers for six months. When the United States became an enemy of Austria-Hungary, Miss Heinzelman was sent to Russia, where she did public health work for seven months under the direction of the State Department.

Then came the need for American nurses to attend American soldiers, and she went to France. In December, following the armistice, she was transferred to a hospital unit with the army of occupation at Coblenz. She says now that she may go into public health work.

The mobile hospital unit stayed close behind the advancing doughboys, Miss Heinzelman said. "When they moved, we 'folded our tents like the Arabs' and moved with them. We always began to get the wounded a few hours after the advance was resumed."

Move Hospital in Day.

Explaining the rapidity with which the unit moved, she said: "The hospital could be moved and set up in a day. When working during a battle we often had operating teams, consisting of a surgeon, an anesthetist and an assistant, added to the regular personnel. We received only men who could not stand the half-day journey to the hospitals in the rear. You might call them 'dying cases,' although, as a matter of fact, our death rate was less than 50 per cent."

"Our tents leaked, and sometimes when it was raining we had to wear trench coats and rubber boots while waiting on patients."

Of her stay in Germany, she said: "The Germans were inclined to be friendly toward us until they found that we proposed to remain aloof; then they assumed the same attitude."

Mobile Hospital No. 4 served in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne advances.

10 PER CENT IS FIXED AS FAIR RENT PROFIT

Complaint Board Plans to Have Tax Assessments of Profiteering Landlords Increased.

The Complaint Board, in consultation with Assessor Wolbrink, yesterday formulated a number of specific complaints of profiteering which had been made to the board by tenants. All of these complaints were turned over to the Assessor, who will make an investigation to find out what rent has been exacted and what would be a fair valuation on the property.

Where evidence of profiteering is found the assessments will be revised so as to cut down the profits of the landlords to 10 or 12 per cent, according to the condition of the property. When the investigation is concluded the Complaint Board will make public the names of profiteering landlords and the locations of the property on which they have exacted exorbitant rents.

Will Try to Find Tenants.

Secretary Marsh today said that if landlords who have property which they will rent at reasonable figures will communicate with him he will endeavor to find tenants from among those who are sending in complaints.

A returned soldier yesterday informed Marsh he had found a number of vacant houses but when he inquired of the agents he was told the houses were not for rent. He suspected that houses were being kept vacant to increase the demand and cut down the supply.

Six complaints of rent profiteering were received by the Complaint Board in the first mail today. One was that the rent on apartments in the 5800 block on Westminster place had been raised from $50 to $57.50, with notice that there would be a further raise to $72.50. Under these conditions, the complainant said, the tenants were being required to sign two-year leases.

A tenant in the 4700 block on Natural Bridge avenue complained a flat of three rooms and bath had been raised from $17 to $22 and that when he complained the agent advised him to meet the increase by asking his employer for more wages.

"In a Chicken Coop."

Another complaint was that eight families are "housed in a chicken coop" in the 2600 block on Warren street, with no repairs made and the porches falling down and with ash pits so close to the sheds that they cause fires. The complainant does not say to what figure the rents have been raised, but he asserts he "could write a book as big as the Railway Exchange building" about the way the tenants are treated.

A tenant in the 4000 block on De Tonty street writes that the rent of 4-room flats has been raised from $22 to $30. A flat-dweller in the 1000 block on Hodiamont avenue writes that his rent has been progressively raised from $15 to $18, $20 and $22 and he has received notice of another advance to $27.50.

A man living in the 3800 block on Washington boulevard writes that his rent has been raised to $40 on a house that is "not worth $20." Other houses in the block, he says, have been raised from $35 to $50.

BARON ASTOR SELLS BUILDING

Transfers $5,000,000 Property in New York Financial District.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Baron Astor of England and his son, Capt. John Jacob Astor, yesterday sold another big gilt-edged realty parcel in the financial district—Exchange Court, 52 Broadway, a 12-story office building, extending along the Exchange place front to New street.

William Waldorf Astor built it 19 years ago, on a site notable in old New York annals. It is valued about $5,000,000. The new owner is the City Investing Co., of which Robert E. Dowling is president. The buyer paid cash. The brokers were I. Clarence Davies and Harry J. Sachs.

The property has a frontage on Broadway of 125 feet, on New street of 130, on Exchange place of 130 and 150 on the southerly line, adjoining the Standard Oil Arcade. Capt. Astor sold the landmarks 8-12 Wall street to the Bankers Trust Co. for $2,000,000 recently, as the site for an extension of the buyer's skyscraper. Nearly $50,000,000 holdings of Lord Astor here were transferred to Capt. Astor this summer.

SHEEHAN-GHIO WEDDING IS SET FOR SEPT. 24

Ceremony Will Take Place at St. Roch's Church—Bridegroom Was an Officer.

THE marriage of Miss Mary Sheehan and Dr. Humbert S. Ghio will take place on Sept. 24 at St. Roch's church. Father George Kuhlman will perform the ceremony. Miss Sheehan will be attended by her sister, Miss Alice Sheehan, as maid of honor and Dr. Clarence Funch will act as best man. The ushers will be Dr. T. Noxon Toomey and Joseph Sheehan. Miss Sheehan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Sheehan of 5851 Ninth place and is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy. Dr. Ghio is a graduate of St. Louis University and served as a First Lieutenant in the Dental Corps during the war. He is the son of Mrs. Amelia Ghio of 4557 Fountain avenue.

Social Items

The marriage of Miss Elmyra Sewing and Louis J. Johanning will take place at noon today. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. George Morgan at the home of the bride's brother, Dr. Arthur H. Sewing, 2349 St. Louis avenue, with whom she resides. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. H. Johanning of 3504 Victor street. Miss Grace Sewing, the bride's sister, will be maid of honor. She will wear a frock of pink georgette and satin, and will carry a bouquet of killarney roses. The bridegroom's brother, Edward H. Johanning, will act as best man. The bride will wear a gown of white satin trimmed with duchess lace, and will carry a shower of bride's roses. Mr. Johanning and his bride will depart today for Estes Park, Colo., on a wedding trip.

Miss Jane Kleiber, daughter of Mrs. Frank M. Kleiber of 3611 Lafayette avenue, has chosen Oct. 8 as the date for her marriage to Allan K. Schleicher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Schleicher of 3618 Lafayette avenue.

The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's mother, and will be followed by a reception.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Rhea Carson Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville R. Blake, of Chicago, formerly of St. Louis, to Howard H. Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Kennedy of 5923 Bartmer avenue. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Boyle of 4204 Flad avenue spent August at "Oak Grove Farm," St. James, Mo., and expect to return to St. Louis Sept. 7.

Miss Lucy Butler, daughter of Mrs. Henry S. Butler of 5534 Bartmer avenue, has returned from Eagle River and will return to Vassar College this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Banister and their daughter, Miss Marion Banister and son, Edward Banister, of 4542 West Pine boulevard, returned Saturday from Asbury Park, N. J., where they spent the summer.

Miss Rose Muckerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Muckerman of 4464 West Pine boulevard, has returned from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott K. Ludington of 26 Washington terrace and their daughter, Miss Lucy Ludington, have returned from summering at Swampscott, Mass. Miss Ludington will be one of this season's debutantes.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Corn of 5826 Waterman avenue and their niece, Ethel Corn, will depart tomorrow on an automobile tour to Chicago and Detroit.

Miss Ruth Moffat and her father, Thomas Moffat of 4739 Westminster place, have returned from Bemus Point, Lake Chautauque, N. Y., where Mr. and Mrs. Moffat and Miss Ruth and Miss Peggy Moffat had been since July. Mrs. Moffat and Miss Peggy Moffat have gone to Buffalo, N. Y., and are expected home about Oct. 1.

Miss Jeanette Klein, daughter of Mrs. J. S. Klein of 6377 Pershing avenue, who has been the guest of Mrs. F. H. Riesmeyer of 4951 Lafayette avenue for several weeks, has returned to Alexander, Minn., to stay with her mother at the Kleins' summer home until the middle of September, when they will return home.

When My Baby Smiles

WHEN that slow, sweet smile spreads over my baby's plump little face and his bright eyes almost disappear in one tremendous chuckle, I am the happiest woman alive.

Because I know, you see, that a baby only smiles like that when he is well—when his little stomach is digesting his food perfectly, when he is on the happy way to health.

I can hardly believe he is the same baby who used to have so much trouble with the curds of milk all through those long, weary days when I first found I couldn't nurse him.

We knew he had to have milk in some form—and I bless the day when we found that Nestlé's Milk Food is better for a baby's stomach and easier to digest than any other form of milk.

You see, in Nestlé's the tough milk curds are broken up and made easier to digest. Then they add cereal and sugar—so when you add water and boil you have everything your baby needs for healthy growth.

I know the Nestlé Company will be glad to help you as they helped me if you will fill out and send the coupon below. They will send you, free, enough Nestlé's Food for twelve feedings and a Mother's Book by specialists on how to take care of your baby.

They want your baby to smile, too!

NESTLÉ'S MILK FOOD

Nestlé's is pure milk in powder form that is already modified and does not require the further addition of milk. Always pure and safe, always uniform, and free from the dangers of home modification, Nestlé's has stood the test of three generations and has today the largest sale of any baby food in the world.

FREE! Enough Nestlé's for 12 feedings. Send the coupon!

Eupepsia TABLETS

DON'T DIET! Eat anything you crave, providing you take EUPEPSIA TABLETS.

They will assist your stomach to digest a mixture of food that would ordinarily ferment, causing gas, bloating, headache and many other ills, due to undigested food.

One EUPEPSIA TABLET taken before eating starts the flow of gastric juices, stimulates the membranes and aids the stomach in assimilating and disposing of its food.

Go to your druggist, get a 50c box of EUPEPSIA TABLETS, and after taking the contents, if you are not entirely satisfied with the results, Mr. Druggist is authorized to return your money. Sold for 50c by all druggists.

Thought One Clean Shirt All He Needed

"Ten years ago I was reduced to a mere shadow, was yellow as a gold-piece, and would often be doubled up with most excruciating pains in my stomach. Physicians could only relieve me with morphine. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I was cured. What is more, I have been well ever since. A friend said he thought one more clean shirt all would ever wear. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and general ailments, including appendicitis. One does not need a doctor or money to be cured. U. S. Minister to Poland Visits Paris.
 Associated Press.
 PARIS, Sept. 3.—Hugh Gibson, American Minister to Poland, arrived in Paris last night from Warsaw to confer with the American delegation at the peace conference on Polish affairs. He said the commission headed by Henry Morgenthau, which is conducting an inquiry into conditions in Poland, will complete its work in about two weeks.

You Can Clear Your Complexion

Remove Tan, Sunburn, Liver Spots, Freckles and Other Skin Blemishes

By Use of a Well-Known Toilet Preparation.

Some people dislike to use face powders, creams or rouge, but they cannot suffer the embarrassment of a dark, sallow, blotchy, pimply skin. They therefore resort to cosmetics to hide their facial blemishes, little realizing that the longer their use is continued, the more aggravated the trouble becomes.

If you want to clear your complexion and remove those skin blemishes which cause you embarrassment, you should use the Black and White Beauty treatment at bedtime, cleansing your face in the morning. Go to your druggist and ask him for a 25-cent package of Black and White Ointment and a jar or tube of pure, white vaseline. Black and White Soap is a splendid aid to the treatment.

Literature and sample will be gladly supplied you on request. Write Black and White, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.

TWO "PHYSICIANS" GIVEN JAIL TERMS

Judge Miller Finds A. M. Goldstand and John A. Porter Guilty of Practicing Without License.

A. M. Goldstand, 4004 North Newstead avenue, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse and John A. Porter of the Grand Central Hotel, Jefferson avenue and Pine street, a negro, to 90 days by Judge Miller today on charge of practicing medicine without a license. Goldstand, who pleaded guilty, was released on his promise to leave town by Sept. 13.

Goldstand was charged with prescribing for Arthur E. Rump, 6216 Columbia avenue, who has been bed-ridden for 10 years as a result of an injury suffered when he was a post-office employee. He conducts a magazine subscription bureau from his bed.

Rump, who was in a wheel chair in Prosecuting Attorney Siderer's office to testify against Goldstand, said that Goldstand had prescribed a queer-looking liquid for him, which he did not take, "out of respect for my stomach." He said that Goldstand came to him on June 5, having read about his case in the newspapers, and offered to treat him "in the interest of humanity."

Goldstand told the Court that he has been a practicing physician, but his license was revoked in 1906. He exhibited a State certificate issued in 1889. He had been fined $50 and costs on a similar charge previously. Porter was charged with treating Louise Johnson, 15 years old, of 1162 Elliot avenue. She testified that she was sitting in front of her house on Aug. 1 when Porter approached her and asked her if she was ill. She told him she was, and he said that he could cure her in three weeks, and charged her $2.50 for his "visit." He claimed that he did not say he was a physician, but was acting as agent for a medicine company, and denied the signature on a receipt for the $2.50. Judge Miller, comparing the receipt with other signatures of Porter's found the defendant guilty.

TWO STEEL BARGES ON WAY TO ST. LOUIS AGROUND IN OHIO

First of Equipment for River Service From St. Louis Meets Mishap Below Louisville.

Two steel barges, the first of a new fleet of six towboats and 40 barges which are to be the equipment of the Government River Service between St. Louis and New Orleans, yesterday, were aground in the Ohio River, 74 miles below Louisville, on their journey from Ambridge, Pa., to be put in commission at St. Louis.

A message from the captain of their towboat stated that the barges were in danger of damage. They went aground in a windstorm and their predicament was made precarious by the fact that the river was falling rapidly, due to putting up the wickets of the canal at Louisville.

Rees Downs, superintendent of the River Service, obtained the promise yesterday of the United States Engineer at Cincinnati for the immediate dispatch of a relief boat and a flood water to carry the barges free. The point where they are aground is two days' trip from Cairo. Cairo is two days' trip from St. Louis.

CANVASS CONDEMNED DISTRICT TO SEE IF HOMES CAN BE FOUND

Inspectors Study Conditions in Region to Be Wrecked to Widen Twelfth Street.

Six inspectors of the Street Department today are making a canvass of the homes in the condemned district at Twelfth street and Chouteau avenue, to determine whether it is possible for the people to find new homes by Oct. 1, when it is proposed to begin wrecking the buildings for widening the street.

Street Commissioner Talbert said he would lay the findings of the inspectors before the Real Estate Exchange, and ask the members to offer houses to the families at reasonable rents. The city is eager to get the work started, he said, but cannot afford to throw families into the street when they have no place to go. About 50 buildings, housing 100 families, are to be torn down. Talbert said none of the families had complained to him, but that E. V. P. Schneiderhahn, an attorney, had asked whether any provision had been made for getting homes for those who have to move.

LIEUT. MAGUIRE COMING HOME

St. Louisan Scheduled to Arrive in New York Tonight.

Lieut. John T. Maguire, former St. Louis University football star, commissioned at the first officers' training camp at Fort Riley and sent to France in the fall of 1917, attached to the Eighteenth Infantry, First Division, will arrive in New York on the transport Mobile tonight, and will return to St. Louis as soon as he is discharged, according to word received today.

Lieut. Maguire, who resides at 4429 Olive street, was a practicing attorney before his enlistment. In letters published in the Post-Dispatch, he described his participation in many battles of the war, and serious wounds suffered on several occasions. He has been decorated for bravery by the French.

New Trial Denied to Physician.
 Federal authorities here were informed today that the United States Court of Appeals, sitting in Denver, denied a motion for a new trial for Dr. Bascom C. Thompson of Ferguson, Mo., who was convicted and sentenced to serve a year and a day for selling narcotics in violation of the Harrison anti-drug act.

EAST ST. LOUIS STREET CAR MEN ASK FOR ARBITRATION ON WAGES

Union President Sends Letter to Illinois Public Utility Commission.

The Illinois Public Utility Commission was asked to arbitrate the question of an increase in wages for the conductors, motormen and shopmen of the East St. Louis & Suburban Co. in a letter sent last night by William O'Leary, president of one of the union locals. He said he was acting under an understanding with the executive boards of the locals and officials of the company. As has been forecast, it is probable that the wage question will be laid before the commission simultaneously with an application by the company for an increase in fares. The men are getting 41 to 47 cents an hour, with a nine-hour day. They want 65 and 67 cents, with an eight-hour day. The company has a 6-cent fare in East St. Louis, and is said to want 8 cents. It also wants increases on other parts of the system.

A hearing by the commission on an application for an increased rate on the St. Louis-Belleview line will begin at the East St. Louis city hall tomorrow, at which time the commission is expected to say whether it will arbitrate the wage question.

Garland's A Sale of 500 Fall Dresses

THE RESULT OF AN EXTRAORDINARY UNDERPRICED PURCHASE

A sale that will indelibly register itself on the minds of St. Louis women as one of the greatest merchandising events of their recollection.

Values to $45 $23.75 Values to $45

A sale that will bring comfort to the women who have wondered where and when they could buy a fashionable frock of fine fabric at "old time" prices.

GARLAND merchandising methods have always resulted in remarkable values for Garland patrons, and this big sale scheduled for Thursday is no exception. These five hundred Dresses represent an underpriced purchase, and the savings we realized on this fortunate trade opportunity are being passed on to you in this extraordinary event tomorrow. Although the assortment is unusually large, it is advisable that you shop early.

EVEN in a season of normal prices for merchandise the price would be exceedingly low—but when the increased cost of everything that goes to make up a dress is considered, the saving is of intense interest, especially at a time when Fall Dresses are so greatly in demand.

Navy serge, gold embroidery on panels and waist, $23.75.

Black satin dress with draped skirt. Button trimmed, $23.75.

Russian blouse model of navy serge, with gold embroidery vestee, $23.75.

THE sale price of these Dresses does no more than to inform you the amount to be paid for one of these Frocks—it gives no hint of the wonderfully distinctive styles and it renders no idea of the fine fabrics in which they take their form. It is your personal inspection of these smart Fall Frocks that is going to make this one of the biggest events in the history of our Dress Salon.

PRODUCTS

SHINOLA Products meet every need for the quick and easy home care of shoes.

BLACK SHINOLA

The ideal polish for all black leather. Shines instantly. Does not spatter or spill.

WHITE SHINOLA

A dense lily-white dressing for all kinds of white shoes. Restores the original newness, does not fill the grain of leather or texture of fabric. Very economical.

TAN SHINOLA

A clear wax and oil polish that does not darken the leather.

RED SHINOLA

An ox-blood colored quick shining dressing for red and ox-blood leathers. Retains its high polish.

BROWN SHINOLA

The heavy body of brown color in wax and oils makes an indispensable dressing for all shades of brown and chocolate dressing.

SERVICE NOTE—Avoid the unsightly spots and stains on tan or colored shoes by protecting the surface before wearing with two or more applications of Tan, Red or Brown SHINOLA. The wax body of SHINOLA serves to keep the leather smooth and less apt to peel or stain. Discoloration caused by rubbing of trousers or skirts is easily removed by rubbing well with SHINOLA. No liquid required.

SHINOLA HOME SET

Provides the best and easiest means of applying SHINOLA, any color, and polishing quickly with least labor. The genuine bristles of the dauber are cemented under great pressure into a deep steel setting so that they do not fall out or mat down with use. Will easily remove dirt and grit from around sole. The SHINOLA Polisher is made of the highest quality lamb's wool, tanned on the hide, mounted on heavy wood back, and brings the SHINOLA Shine with a few strokes.

SHINOLA Polishes all give a lasting shine. Do not stain or rub off. Good for the leather.

REINFORCEMENTS
OF MINERS' ARMY

Insurgents Decide to Resume March Into Perry County Despite Policy Committee's Surrender.

TWO DISTRICTS VOTE TO CONTINUE STRIKE

Policy Committee Advises Surrender and Acknowledges Defeat of Rebellion Against Union Officials.

Disintegration of the miners' "army," which set in yesterday afternoon at Coulterville when word was received that the strikers' Policy Committee had recommended surrender, was checked this forenoon when reinforcements arrived, bringing the information that the Collinsville and Belleville miners, in contravention of the Policy Committee's recommendation, had voted to continue the strike.

When word of the Policy Committee's action was received yesterday afternoon at Coulterville, half of the army of 350 men turned back. The half of the army still in the field, with 30 to 40 reinforcements from Belleville, including some of the men who deserted yesterday, decided this forenoon to push forward to Winkie, in Perry County. "Col." Dan Slinger will not lead them across the Perry County border. He will take a side trip by automobile to Sparta and try to get the men there to strike and rejoin the column at Winkie with reinforcements from Sparta.

The Collinsville and Belleville strikers are doing their best to counteract the effect of the policy committee's action, which came near disrupting the column which left Belleville Sunday to invade the Southern Illinois fields and "pull out" the men who had not joined the insurrection against the State administration of the miners' union.

Leader Charles Treason. The disintegration started yesterday when Coffey arrived with information of the action of the policy committee and a message from Dan Reid of Collinsville, chairman of the committee, advising abandonment of the expedition. Coffey told the men that the Belleville strikers favored continuing the fight and tried to dissuade him from carrying the news of the policy committee's action to the men in the field, but he was unwilling to let the army march on in ignorance of what was taking place in the rear.

He told them they had been double-crossed by traitors and the policy committee had thrown them down, but their part in the fight had been a success and they should be proud of the results they had achieved.

The men were greatly disturbed by the news Coffey brought. Some advised going to Collinsville and marching through the streets to show the "quitters" what the marchers had done for the cause.

"Col." Dan Slinger said he would not advise the men. It was up to them to go ahead or go back, but on account of their wives and children he would hate to see them go further.

Men Board Train for Home. No vote was taken, but the men who were ready to quit went to the railroad station. Most of these, including Coffey, boarded the north-bound evening passenger train. Thirty or 40 journeyed homeward on a freight.

The men who decided to stay had been heartened by a rumor that the miners of Sparta and Duquoin and some smaller places had struck, but this was found this morning to be incorrect.

The army was not cordially received at Coulterville, where the local men are at work. Chief of Police Gillespie last night ordered the invaders out of town. They obeyed and the rank and file camped for the night in the fields. Several of the leaders, however, registered at the hotel. After breakfast this morning the men straggled back into town.

A meeting was held this forenoon which was attended by about 120 of the Coulterville men. Twenty said they would join the army.

When Sheriff Gillespie received information this morning that 30 or 40 armed miners were on the way from Belleville he called upon Sheriff McGuire at Chester for assistance.

The prospect of a fruitless march through Perry County contributed to the loss of the army's morale at Coulterville. The Perry County border is just beyond Coulterville. Word came from Pinckneyville, the Perry county seat, yesterday, that the sheriff had mobilized 100 armed deputies with instructions to meet the army at the border and permit it to enter but to escort it through the county and not permit it to turn to the right or the left.

Collinsville miners at a mass meeting yesterday afternoon decided, in contravention of the advice of the Policy Committee, to remain on strike. Belleville men, at a meeting last night, took the same action. A small proportion of the men employed at Nigger Hollow No. 2 mine, however, voted to reorganize and return to work, by a vote of 76 to 21. The mine employs about 700 men.

Heads of Peoria Miners' Committee Admit Defeat.

By the Associated Press. PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 3.—Admitting defeat at the hands of Frank Farrington, State president of the United Mine Workers, local heads of the miners' unions here declared last night that steps will be taken immediately to reinstate the Peoria miners in the State and national organizations.

"We are beaten," declared Peter Grant, head of the Policy Committee for this district.

"Farrington has got us on the hip in more ways than one, now that our charters have been revoked. He can use our funds to fight us, for he is in control of them, now that the union charters have been revoked."

MARKET STREET SALOON
LICENSE REVOKED BY LEWIS

Edgar Foster Was Shot to Death in Front of Place, on Aug. 19.

Another License Suspended.

The license of a saloon at 1313 Market street, in front of which Edgar Foster, 26 years old, of 214 North Compton avenue, was shot to death the night of Aug. 19, was revoked today by Excise Commissioner Lewis. The license was in the name of Charles Sommers, but the police have repeatedly said that the place was managed by James J. ("Spot") Regan, Charles ("Red") Lanham, president of a teamsters' local union, is held for the shooting of Foster.

Lewis indefinitely suspended the license of Walter F. Niehaus, 209 North Garrison avenue, upon the testimony of policemen who said they arrested 12 men and seven women there the night of Aug. 27.

WILL DISCUSS MOVERS' STRIKE

The Labor Committee of the St. Louis Furniture Movers' Association, employers of the 400 union moving men who went on strike yesterday for increased wages and a shorter work day, will meet this afternoon to discuss the situation, which remains unchanged today.

An official of the union said the men's committee expected soon to be invited to a conference with the employers. Picketing of the moving and storage companies affected by the strike continues.

FORMER UNDER-SECRETARY TO BE SECRETARY TO VISCOUNT GREY

Sir William Tyrrell Accepts Comparative Humble Position With New British Ambassador.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An unusual story of friendship between two men in high office was told here today by Lieutenant-Colonel Thwaites, British Assistant Provost Marshal, following the announcement that Sir William Tyrrell would accompany Viscount Grey as his private secretary when the latter arrives here at the end of this month to serve as British Ambassador to Washington.

Sir William was private secretary to Sir Edward Grey at the outbreak of the war. When Sir Edward Grey retired, Sir William was made Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs. One of his sons was killed at the front, fighting alongside American troops during the closing days of the conflict, and the father determined to retire from public life. When his old chief consented to go to the United States as Ambassador, Sir William volunteered to accept the comparatively humble position of private secretary after having filled one of the most important posts in the empire.

Ambassador Grey's eyesight has almost completely failed him and it was this fact, too, that Thwaites said which determined Sir William to make the considerable sacrifice.

Sir William Tyrrell visited the United States in 1913 on a special mission after relations between Great Britain and this country had been strained because of affairs in Mexico. After conferences with President Wilson it was announced that complete harmony between the two countries had been restored. After his return home Sir William expressed great admiration for the President.

3 MEN IN AUTO ARRESTED IN CHASE; SHOTGUN FOUND IN CAR

Machine Was Pursued on Tip That a Trio in Saloon Talked of Holding Up a Train.

After receiving a tip that three men driving in a high-powered automobile had remarked in a St. Louis country saloon that they were going out to rob a train, Constable Schoenbelen yesterday enlisted the aid of city detectives. After a chase from Sarsfield street to Newstead avenue on Grand boulevard they overhauled a machine answering the description given by the informant.

In the car were George (Weenie) Meyers, who gave his address as the Hotel, 903 North Sixth street, and William Doering (Red) Powers, 1908 McFee avenue. The police say Meyers and Doering are ex-convicts.

A search of the machine revealed a repeating shotgun loaded with five shells and a box containing 15 extra shells.

The license on the automobile was issued to F. C. Swain, 6323 Cedar avenue, but powers asserted the car was his. The prisoners said they had not told anyone they were going to hold up a train and explained the presence of the shotgun in the car by saying they were going hunting.

Meyers, police say, was shot 10 years ago in a fight between policemen and box-car thieves. Doering was arrested a few weeks ago in connection with the holdup of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grodzicki on Waterman avenue, but was released after a preliminary hearing.

Calomel Robbed of Its Luster

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Unpleasant and Sickening Qualities Removed. New Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern pharmacy is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One tablet on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts, no good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver and a big appetite. Read what you please. No danger.

"Calotabs" are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist offers to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—ADV.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Employment Agencies.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Knowing that the policy of the Post-Dispatch is fairness to all, the writer wishes to take exception to the letter by an Ex-Marine, in your issue of Aug. 27. In his letter, Ex-Marine states that he could not secure service through any of the free agencies, but was offered to be referred to positions by the fee-charging agencies. However, they wished nearly 50 per cent of his first month's salary, of which one-half this fee was payable on acceptance of the position. We will state that 50 per cent of the business done by the fee-charging agencies is on a credit basis, allowing applicants from one to three months in which full payment is to be made. The writer has been in this business over five years and is acquainted with the operations of the fee-charging agencies all over the United States, and never to his knowledge was a capable man turned down because he could not make his first payment. In fact, only yesterday we made an agreement with an ex-marine that in the event that we secure him a position paying $150 a month we would allow him three months in which to take care of this account, and longer if necessary. This man is single and has no dependents on him. Ex-Marine in his letter states that business heads should give all of their calls to the free agencies. The writer knows that many of the firms in this town have done this, and at the same time have given the call to the fee-charging agencies, and the latter was successful in securing the man the employer wanted in competition with the free agencies.
Some years ago a large employment institution was organized in New York City by a fund of $100,000, contributed by Rockefeller, Morgan, Jacob Schiff, Harkness, Newcomb Carlton, Francis L. Hine and other wealthy men. This institution was to be run strictly on a philanthropic basis. It was not a success, so it was changed to a fee-charging agency, and is now one of the most successful and largest organizations of its kind in the United States.
We might state here that fee-charging agencies such as we operate, have not been accorded fair treatment by the public, probably due to their ignorance as to how up-to-date, modern agencies are operated.

Soldier Out of a Job.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In regard to Mr. Walsh's letter urging employers to give soldiers jobs, I would like to say I am a young man and have registered with the Demobilization Bureau for the past three months, and they have been unable to do anything for me. If some good business man does not come to my aid as I want to the aid of our country, I don't know what I shall do, for my funds are almost exhausted. I am, St. Louis, take care of your sons! Don't let them have to go back to the hell from which they have just come. It sure is too bad St. Louis can't take care of her own, the men who fought and bled for her. One in need of a position; formerly Corporal.

Georgian Brutality.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
We notice in a recent date of your issue the lynching of Eli Cooper, colored, at Eastman, Ga., a few days ago, by a mob of white ruffians, who have no respect for law and its precepts.
The mob saw fit to carry their crime to the burning of the colored churches and lodge hall.
Oh! America, where is thy law and honor? Oh, temple of justice, where is thy pride, when these and many kindred crimes go unchecked by law enforcement?
If this Government has the power to demand Turkey, thousands of miles away and a foreign country, too, to stop the massacre of the Armenians, is it not plausible she could and should demand and put down lynchings and burning at stake her own subjects?
We give freely our sons to the cause for liberty and democracy that the world might be a decent place in which to live. Are we to enjoy any of the benefit of that slogan ever here at home? We ask a different reward to that of the rope and torch.

THE PRESIDENT'S ISSUE.
President Wilson's tour of the country appealing to public opinion for support of the peace treaty as agreed upon at Versailles marks the crisis in the conflict with the senatorial opposition over its ratification.
It cannot be denied that the tide of popular opinion has been running somewhat against the President's contention that the treaty should be adopted as it is, without reservations in the ratifying resolution. The Post-Dispatch believes that the treaty is sound and will work potentially for peace and justice through the well-defined and agreed-upon processes of arbitration and delay, but we realize that party and factional prejudices and the constant-sometimes unprincipled—hammering of the peace covenant have created doubts and fears in large elements of the people. We believe a large majority of the people want the League of Nations as a peace measure, but repeated assertions that it will cause war and undermine American independence have caused confusion of thought in the public mind.
The President is willing to accept interpretations of the treaty and the covenant outside of the ratifying resolution, but insists that anything more than that will ruin the work of the peace conference and indefinitely postpone peace.
The issue, then, is the acceptance of the peace treaty, including the covenant, as framed at Paris, as opposed to either its rejection or its ratification with amendments. The task of the President is to convince the American people that its ratification without amendment is necessary to the salvation of the work of the Versailles conference, and that the peace covenant will make for peace and justice and for a great advance of democracy and civilization.
It is understood that the President has potent reasons backed by facts to support his plan. It is understood that, so far as possible, he will take the people into his confidence and reveal all the conditions which support his view of the treaty and the covenant. He will tell them why the treaty and covenant were framed in their present form and why they should be ratified as written.
It is understood that he will discuss other issues, such as the question of Ireland's self-government, with frankness. He will show how the conference agreed upon between Lloyd George and the Irish-American delegates was blocked by the delegates themselves.
It is understood that the President will show that the peace covenant itself provides a way for the settlement of the Irish question. The clause in the covenant which enables a member of the League of Nations to call attention in a friendly way, without offense, to any condition which makes for friction or conflict, offers America an opportunity to intervene in behalf of Ireland, without offense to Great Britain.
The President's appeal to the people is not a day too early. It is perhaps the psychological moment to arrest public attention and convince public opinion, if the President has the potency of right and reason in his plea.
It is unnecessary to add that what Mr. Wilson says is of profound interest. It is unnecessary to bespeak for him earnest attention and the careful weighing of his statements. The subject with which he deals is the greatest in the world. A sound decision in America is vital, not only to American welfare, but to the welfare of mankind. Upon it hangs the question of peace or war, of world order or world chaos, of the preservation and advance of civilization.
A SIX MONTHS' ARMISTICE
The recommendation of the New York State Federation of Labor that strikes and talk of strikes be taboo for a period of six months is a wise, constructive proposal. If adopted and carried out it will give organized labor in America a high place in world esteem and a finer national prestige than it has ever before enjoyed.
Two reasons are cited in the recommendation: First, the necessity of a fair trial for the administration's efforts to reduce living costs; second, the apprehension in business circles as to conditions and the reluctance of capital to embark in new or expanding enterprises in the face of present uncertainty.
Either one of those reasons is sufficient argument for trying out the plan, but the second reason is probably the more important, notwithstanding burdensome prices and the wide demand for relief. For if capital, which is proverbially timid, should be frightened into retirement, the depression which would inevitably follow would be far worse than the circumstances of excessive prices, onerous as those are.
The timidity of capital, as all are agreed, was the cause of the old-fashioned panics to which we were periodically subject. It was not lack of capital that made '73 and '93 such black, impoverished years. It was fear—the fear of capital to stay on the job. A modern currency system has eliminated all occasion for such cowardice, but a new liability is here. If labor, the indispensable partner of capital, can no longer be depended upon, capital, whether afraid or not, will be powerless to function.
CARRANZA SAYS "YOU'RE ANOTHER."
While Gov. Hobby of Texas is insisting that only intervention in Mexico can bring peace to his State and Arizona demands a hog-tight fence of wire or board all along the border—a Chinese wall of modern constructive materials—the note of optimism in Carranza's annual message to Congress seems rather shrill and of forced quality.
His representations as to Government finances and Mexico's readiness to pay foreign claims and preparations for paying them are reassuring. To most of us probably it was a surprise to learn that while we complain of the insecurity to Americans in Mexico, Carranza has a grievance based on the insecurity of Mexicans in this country. He cites specific cases of violence toward his countrymen, not only in Texas, but in Oklahoma, Utah, Illinois and the State of Washington.
His message evidences the great irritation on the other side of the line against this country. We know there is much irritation on this side of the line against Mexico. With each country showing distrust for the other, a very perilous situation exists. Unless efforts are made to remove it, the bitterness will grow greater, not less. To substitute good will is one of the serious tasks of the future.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.
HOOVER'S WARNING TO EUROPE.
From the London Times.
WE call the attention of all serious men and women in every class to the outspoken memorandum of Mr. Hoover on the economic situation in Europe. A summary will be found in another column, but we advise readers to get a copy of the paper, which is issued by the Ministry of Food, and to study it for themselves. Several emphatic warnings have been uttered lately by responsible public men, and they have not passed unheeded; but Mr. Hoover's words will make a deeper impression, partly because of his position as an independent and highly qualified observer, and partly because of their strength and directness. They carry the more weight because they were not intended for publication, but were written for the information of the European Governments. The Ministry of Food has been well advised in publishing them. It is to the peoples that these hard facts should be addressed. Ever since the armistice they have been living in a fool's paradise, as though the cessation of armed hostilities had opened the door to a state of pure enjoyment according to every man's fancy, to some of the pleasures of ease and comfort and a "good time" in general, to others the more congenial occupation of quarrelling with their neighbors, stirring up domestic strife and upsetting the whole framework of social order. There was some reason for relaxation from the strain of war and for an interval of less strenuous effort before taking up the burden of peace; and if that had been all, no harm would have been done. But Governments and peoples alike have been misled as though there were no more war, and as if the wastage of war could be made good by spending more, by doing less and quarrelling with each other. The inevitable result is that Europe is drawing near, not merely to bankruptcy and financial ruin, but to actual starvation. The production of necessities, Mr. Hoover tells us, has never been at so low an ebb as it is now. It is not only far below the level of the time when the armistice was signed, but far below the level needed for the maintenance of life and health without an unparalleled rate of importation. And the imported necessities, without which life cannot be maintained, must be paid for by exports, which are not being produced.

JUST A MINUTE

PANETELA.
YES, Luella, Just a Minute
Didn't you see
A little back;
Duty, ever
On him pressing,
Forced him to
The beaten track.
Naturally,
He resisted.
Fighting fiercely,
Like the Turk,
Like the gods
Were all against him,
And they put him
Back to work.
Here he sits,
His mind a muddle—
Knowing nothing,
He could write;
Coming headlong
From the darkness,
Travelling blinking
At the light.
Once he liked
The league of nations,
Now a season
With the trout
Leaves him
Actually asking
What the hell
It was about.
Is there such
A man as Wilson,
Or was that
A sort of dream?
Was there someone Called the Kaiser,
Or does fancy
So beseech?
After twenty Days of fishing
Where the mountain
Breasts blow,
What could one
Be sure of having Known of thirty Days ago?
Nothing to it,
Little girlie;
One must hope
The world is kind
Until something
Like the Transfer Company
Returns his mind.
Judging by one's
State of coma
And its still Unlifting funk,
This will take
A little longer Than it takes
To get a trunk.
Still, a fallow field,
Luella,
Yields at length
The better grain.
Think of those Great lubrications
Once we stabilize
Our brain!
In the great
Two-story thinkers'
Ultimate
And final test,
God have mercy
On whomever
Did not give His wits a rest.

President Has Tactical Advantage in Treaty Fight as He Starts His Tour

Knows Just What He Wants, While Republicans in Senate Admit Borah-Johnson-Fight Has Split Them Wide Open.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Events in the fight over the league of nations have so shaped themselves in the last fortnight, that the President, on leaving Washington today for his tour of the West, can take with him the comfortable assurance that once again he holds the tactical advantage. His opponents in the Senate may get together and recover the mastery of the situation, but for the time being they are split wide open. Consequently the prospects for a presidential victory appear better today than at any other time since the Foreign Relations Committee began consideration of the peace treaty.
It is common knowledge about the Capitol that the Republicans are at loggerheads among themselves. Not only that, but the forces which have temporarily gained control of the party councils, the Borah-Johnson irreconcilable group, are at odds with leaders of the party outside of the Senate. One Senator, who has been trying to bring together the conflicting elements of the party, candidly admitted yesterday that the situation, from the Republican viewpoint, had fallen into a "mess." He believed that eventually the differences would be ironed out, but deplored the aid and comfort that meantime would be given the administration.
Wilson's Decided Advantage.
The President has this decided advantage: He knows exactly what roads he wants to take and where he wants to go. The Republicans are quarrelling among themselves at the crossroads. A group of from 10 to 15 constitute the irreconcilables, who would throw out the league of nations and otherwise amend the treaty. The rest favor ratification of the treaty and the league with reservations. Some, like Spencer, favor "mild" reservations, while others want more drastic language. But all are agreed on the general principle that the treaty ought to be ratified and got out of the way as soon as possible. This group has the powerful support of the big four of the party outside the Senate—Taft, Root, Hughes and Hays, the National Committee chairman. Each of these men has sought to impress on the party leadership the expediency of ratifying the treaty in response to the popular demand that the country be brought back to a peace basis, without undue delay.
For a time, it looked as if the reservationsists would put through their program. The drift was strong-ly in that direction. President Wilson recoiled far enough from his original uncompromising attitude to indicate that he would not oppose an interpretative resolution provided, it would not make a part of the act of ratification. The stage was set for a compromise and a quick conclusion of the whole business.
Lodge Loses Control.
Within the last few days has come a turn of the tide. The clamorous opposition of the Borah-Johnson group has thwarted attempts at compromise. By virtue of its control of the Foreign Relations Committee a comparatively small element of the party has engendered changes on the treaty which appear to be doomed to certain defeat, when the document reaches the Senate. Senator Lodge, temporarily at least, has lost control of the situation.
The irreconcilables are in the saddle. The action of the Foreign Relations Committee in adopting the Shantung amendment and the many textual changes proposed by Senator Fall, indicates the purpose of this group to fight to the end before agreeing to any program of reservations. Ultimately, it seems likely, they will be beaten but not till irreparable damage has been done to the party on the floor of the Senate.
Such, at least, is the view of the majority of the Republicans in the Senate and of the leaders on the outside. Chairman Hays has consistently taken the position that the league of nations must not be made a party issue. He has counseled speedy acceptance of the treaty with reservations. Now, however, the irascible, joined lately by Senator Knox, and proclaim a bitter-end fight that is certain to work to the advantage of the President. Hays insists that the situation is a little better, but would make their replies to the President from the floor of the Senate. Hays' dictum appears to have had effect in all cases, except those of two or three irreconcilables.
Chairman Hays Active.
The outcome of the bitter-end program likely will be a party defeat, for it is certain that sufficient Republican votes will be cast with Democratic votes to insure the defeat of the extreme anti-league proposals.
Chairman Hays, it was learned today, was instrumental in blocking the announced intention of the Republicans to send speakers on the trail of the President. His activity behind the scenes of the Senate, and his announcement that Senators would not tour the country, as first contemplated, but would make their replies to the President from the floor of the Senate, has had effect in all cases, except those of two or three irreconcilables.
BRITISH PAPERS PRINT PLEA VIRTUALLY TO SCRAP NAVY
Fears Expressed Fight Will Come Between Advocates of Large and Small Sea Force.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 3.—The campaign for administrative economy is gaining momentum daily. Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader in the House of Commons and J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, came to London yesterday to hold a meeting of the Cabinet which included Earl Curzon, President of the Council and Government leader in the House of Lords, and George Nicoll Barnes, Minister without portfolio. It is understood that the discussion was centered around national finance, being particularly devoted to the question of how far it would be possible to reduce estimates for the defensive services.
Answering press attacks upon Bonar Law, Premier Lloyd George has sent a message to newspapers here declaring it would be grossly unfair to attribute continued war expenditures to any particular member of the Government.
The demand of Baron Fisher of Kilvestone, former First Sea Lord for the virtual scrapping of the navy, half of which is already obsolete, was the ground that a big navy is not required now that Germany has been defeated, has been printed in all the newspapers here and had caused a great sensation. Naval experts who have been consulted, consider that Baron Fisher's proposal is much too drastic and fears are expressed that there is imminent a great fight between the advocates of a small and a big navy. Sir Percy Scott who was Rear Admiral was formerly in command of the first cruiser squadron, considers that the larger battleship is doomed and that money devoted to building these ships could be better employed in other ways. He does not however agree with all of Baron Fisher's conclusions.
OFFICIAL GREETING TO FIRST War Department Says Division Has Splendid Record.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The record of the First Division furnishes a splendid chapter in American history," the War Department said yesterday in an official message of greeting to the division.
The War Department sends greetings to the First Division on its arrival home after a career and with a record unsurpassed by any division in the American Expeditionary Force," said the message. "This superb command contains the finest types of American manhood—men whose services have been of incalculable value to the country. The record of this division furnished a splendid chapter in American history and will always be dear to the hearts of all Americans."
FORMER OFFICERS IN BRITISH FORCES FORM UNIQUE CLUB
Party Will Settle on Ranch in Central America Under Supervision of Brigadier-General Critchley.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 2.—A party of former officers of the British forces met here today with the purpose of settling on a ranch in Central America, where they will take up life on a ranch under the supervision of Brigadier-General Alfred Critchley, former commander of the Royal Air Force.
Brigadier-General Critchley originated the plan in recognition of the part of many of the demobilized officers for healthy sporting and adventurous life, combined with the possibilities of a commercial nature.
On the ranch, which is located in the center of a well-stocked sporting area, it is proposed to breed horses, cattle and sheep and grow cotton and other crops. The estate belongs to Gen. Critchley. It is planned to divide the land among the members of the party after the first year.
All members of the party who will meet the trip tomorrow are bachelors, but married men, who are former officers of the British forces, will be welcomed to membership after the inauguration of the enterprise.
Brigadier-General Critchley, who was born in Calgary 30 years ago, is widely known in Canada as a sportsman, hunting, polo, golf and tennis being his favorite pastimes. He was a member of Lord Strathcona's corps at the outbreak of the war and went to Europe and served with the first Canadian division to take part in the war. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Order in 1915.
JAPAN'S PEACE ENVOY CRITICISED
Student Calls His Work a Failure, and Workmen Throw Stones.
By the Associated Press.
TOKYO, Monday, Sept. 1.—Marquis Kintomoshi Saloni, former Premier and head of the Japanese delegation at the peace conference in Paris, arrived here today, being given an enthusiastic welcome by thousands at the station.
An untoward incident occurred following an address to the crowd when a student denounced Marquis Saloni, saying that his work in Paris had been a failure. Several workmen threw stones at the station, but no damage was done. All the men who threw stones were arrested.
Marquis Saloni is quoted as saying: "Every nation is dissatisfied with the results attained at the peace conference, but the league of nations has produced a great change in the position of Japan in international politics. Her political interests are now becoming world-wide."

Rock-a-bye Washing Machine!
By
Mrs. Christine Frederick.

IN a previous article I said I would discuss the four main types of washing machines, and the advantages of each. The four types are:

1. Dolly, or agitator, in which a wooden "milk stool" revolved at the same time pounding the clothes. Most common type of all. Fairly hard on clothes because of the rubbing given by the dolly.
2. Rocking or oscillating type. Here there is a wooden or metal cylinder, which revolves or rather rocks from side to side. In this rocking, it throws the clothes rapidly from one side of the drum to the other. It is this drop which beats the clothes and removes the dirt.
3. Cylindrical type. Here there are two cylinders, one within the other. One revolves, while the other stays stationary. The clothes are in the one cylinder, and are revolved on a horizontal plane constantly, which moves the hot suds through them, and thus removes dirt.
4. The vacuum type. Here one or more sets of vacuum bells alternately rise and fall over the clothes, thus sucking up the dirt, and also exerting pressure on the clothes.

All of these washers have their good points. It has been proved, however, that the "dolly" type is the most injurious to the clothes, owing to the pounding. Perhaps the most satisfactory for general home use is the rocking type, which comes with a perforated wooden cylinder. Some models have a copper or other metal cylinder, but it is never wise to use metal for home use, because the alkali in the soaps used, will cause the metal to become sharp, and hence eventually lead to tear the clothes. A wooden cylinder wears smoother and smoother, and is much more satisfactory. The only place where a copper cylinder is practicable, is in a commercial laundry, where the machine is required to do exceedingly heavy work.

But after all, let me say that it is not the rubbing or the machine which takes out dirt, it is the heat of the water and the kind and strength of the soap solution.

With a good rocking washer there is no need to soak the clothes nor boil them, either. They may be put directly into the cylinder of the washer, the soap solution poured on, and the washer started. It will require about 15 minutes to wash one batch of clothes. While it is washing the second batch may be prepared for it. After batch No. 1 is washed, and while it is being blued, then the tub may be loaded with the second batch, thus saving time. It should be taken into consideration that one-half hour to wash and rinse all the laundry for a family of five.

Many of the washers have a gas attachment which may be placed directly under the water, and be lighted at the same time. This is by all means the best way of heating the water.

In most of the new models there is a reversible writer, on a swivel arm, which reverses and permits easy going in either direction. The improved washers also have covered motors to prevent them getting wet, and devices to automatically check overloading of the motor. This is very important, as otherwise the motor might be burned out.

The cost of any well-made power washer lies near $100 over, owing to the cost of the motor. But it costs about 2-5 cent per washing for current, so that really the whole cost is the initial cost, and not upkeep. Also, distribute this cost at about $4 monthly, and in two years the washer is paid for.

Eat Slowly, Dr. Rucker Warns

Girls Eat Irregularly, Too Fast. Poor Health Results.

Girls eat irregularly, too fast and without the proper regard to the rules of diet. Such is the pronouncement of Dr. Augustus Rucker, director of the division of health of the social education department, Young Women's Christian Association.

Next to faulty eating, lack of proper exercise plays the most havoc with girls' health nowadays, says Dr. Rucker. Her plan is to establish health centers all over the country, where girls and business women can be examined and advised in health matters and where they may, if they wish, enroll in classes for gymnasium work which will be given with a special thought toward corrective exercises. "The purpose of the center is to keep women well."

A model health center has been opened in New York City. No fees are charged. Any woman may go to be examined. Dr. Florence Meredith, who has recently made medical examinations at Wellesley College and at a Boston factory where 3500 women were employed, is directing the center.

"There is a vital need for educating women to a proper valuation of their health," Dr. Rucker says. "In examining women of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association I have found that out of 414 women not one measured up to normal. These are intelligent women who are supposed to be fairly representative of health ideals."

"It is important for the industrial girl to be able to say not only what she can do today, but with a fair degree of certainty what she will be able to do one year or two years from today. If she comes to us comparatively well, and follows our instructions, she will be able to keep her health and to improve it. For that reason industrial girls will be the first consideration at the health center."

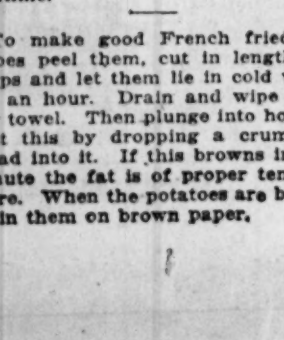

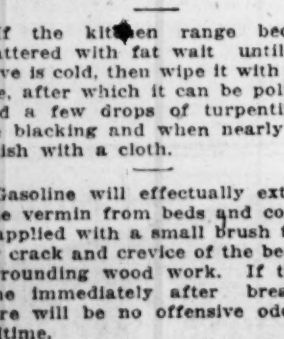

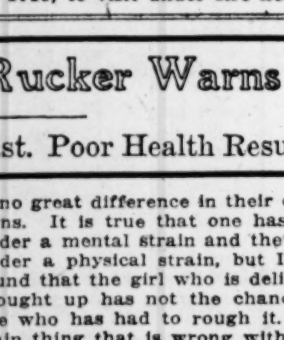

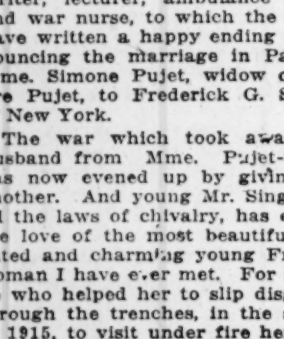

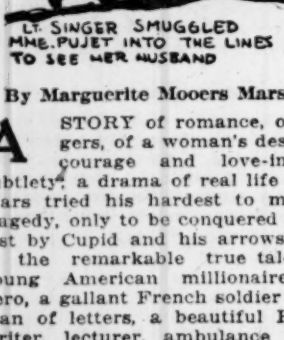

"In examining factory girls and college girls, I have found that there

The Sandman Story for Tonight

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

The Three Ogres and the Pearl—Part III.

THAT night as soon as the magic hour came around the Witch ran to her boiling pot and drank of the magic fluid, and off she flew on her broomstick straight to the three black rocks. But she did not stop, for this night she had wished to behold the one who had changed her sons into rocks, and the broomstick carried her along the river to where a Dolphin was swimming along in the moonlight.

Down she flew, with her stick held ready to touch the Dolphin, which would give her power over him, when the Dolphin suddenly sank under the water and swam toward the three black rocks.

The old Witch flew along over the river, keeping her eyes fixed upon the Dolphin, and every once in a while trying to touch him with her long stick.

But the Dolphin knew what she was trying to do, and he kept just beyond her reach.

When they reached the three black rocks the Dolphin raised his head and looked at the Witch, and she reached with her stick and leaned from her broomstick he jumped and caught the end of her flying long, black cape and pulled her into the river.

The power of the old Witch was gone once the water touched her, and slowly from the river there arose a big tree close beside the three black rocks with its branches spreading out over them as though protecting them from harm.

And there they stood, the three black rocks and the tree, and the old Witch and her three sons, and on a stormy night can be heard the sighing and moaning over the rocks it tries to protect from the water that dashes over them.

And what became of the Dolphin and the Pearl? The Dolphin became a tree down to the bottom of the river went the Dolphin, and taking the pearl in his mouth, swam straight for the big white rock on the bank of the river.

Three times it tapped with a fin on the white rock, and then the rock disappeared, and up from the bank there arose a beautiful white horse, and from the water leaped a handsome youth, but the Dolphin had disappeared.

Straight to the castle of the King rode the youth, and laid the pearl in the King's hand. But when the King of gold was offered to him the youth shook his head.

"It is more than gold I ask from you," he told the King. "I wish the hand of the Princess, for I am a prince who came from a far-off country to ask for the Princess. But one night when I was almost within sight of your castle I stopped by the river to rest, and the moon rose, and there a terrible fate overtook me, from which I have only now escaped."

"A witch who held her nightly revel in the wood nearby had been disturbed by my horse throwing a stone which had caught in his foot into her kettle of boiling liquid. She ran after us, and as I stopped she laid upon us both her cane, changing me into a Dolphin and my good horse into a big white rock. And that is how I chanced to find the pearl the Princess lost while bathing in the river. I was swimming near by when she dropped it, and since then I have guarded it until the spell which held me was broken."

When the King asked how he escaped from the magic of the old Witch, the Prince told him that the sea god had given him power to change the form of the one who had wronged him if ever he had a chance to reach her or her sons, because he had always been ready to carry the sea god about and did not run away as the other Dolphins did.

The Princess fell in love with the handsome Prince the minute she saw him and she said that they were married, but the Prince never told his Princess about the fate to the Witch or her three sons.

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By Carolyn Wells,
Author of "The Bride of a Moment," "Faulkner's Folly," Etc.

The crowd came down the stairs and into the great hall, laughing at some quip of Wise's. Ever since the day of the two deaths a sombre gloom had pervaded the whole place, and smiles had been few. The sound of laughter came as a shock to the Landons, but the cheery face of Penny Wise betokened only wholesome good nature and not flippant heartlessness.

"Old Montgomery knew how to build a house, he commented, looking at the finely curving staircase and its elaborate balusters. "Living rooms nowadays are all very well, but these great entrance halls are finer places to congregate. You spend much of your time here, I'm sure. Two weeks later, this is difficult to light properly—by daylight, I mean. And you've no electric here, have you?"

"No," replied Landon, "only kerosene and candles. You see, the place has been unoccupied for years."

"Haunted houses are apt to be," "Reputed haunted houses," corrected the professor.

"There are no others," and Wise grinned. "All reputedly haunted houses have nothing to haunt them but their reputations. I mean, the story of their ghost is all the ghost they have."

"But I saw the ghost here," and Eve spoke with a quiet dignity that defied contradiction.

"Of course you did," Wise assented. "The ghost came purposely to be seen."

"Did you ever see one, Mr. Wise?" "I never did, Miss Carnforth. I never hope to see one! But I can tell you, anyhow, I'd rather see them be one."

"Oh, of course, if you're going to take that tone," and Eve turned away, decidedly offended.

"Sorry!" and Wise flashed a smile at her. "But you see, a detective can't afford to believe in ghosts. We make our living solving mysteries, and to say, 'It was the ghost,' is by way of begging the question."

"Then you think the phantoms that appeared to some of us were really human beings?" asked Tracy, interestedly.

"I sure do."

"And you propose to find out who and how?" said Braye.

"If I live up to my reputation, I must do so. There are but two kinds of detectives. Effective detectives and defective detectives. It is the aim of my life to belong to the former class, and here's my chance to make good. Now I've examined the upper floors, I'll look over this hall and the ground floor rooms. Shall I have time before dinner, Mrs. Landon?"

His charm and pleasant personality had already won Milly's liking and she said, cordially, "Yes, indeed, Mr. Wise. And if you wish we'll delay dinner to suit your pleasure."

"Not at all. Done in a few minutes. Stunned?"

"Yes," said the thin little voice of the thin little girl, and Milly suddenly realized that Zizi was present with the crowd.

The graceful little figure stepped forward and stood at Wise's side as he looked the hall over. He tapped at the paneled walls, and smiled as he said, "Solid and intact. No secret passage or sliding panel—of the kind I'm sure."

"If you're trying to find a secret entrance into the house, Mr. Wise," Landon said, "you are wasting your time. I am more or less architecturally inclined, and I've tapped and sounded and measured and calculated—and I can assure you there's nothing of the sort."

"Good work! That saves me some trouble. I'm sure. Marvelous work."

on these doors, eh? And the bronze columns—from abroad. I take it."

"Yes," Prof. Hardwick said, slapping his hand against one of the fluted bronze pillars. "I admire these columns more than the doors even. They're unique, I don't wonder their owner built a house behind them. I doubt if their match is in America."

"And the locks and bolts are as ponderous as the doors," commented the detective. "Eh, Zizi?"

"They are like that all over the house," said the girl, in a casual tone. "Even the kitchen quarters are as securely fastened and bolted. And upstairs, any doors that give on balconies are strongly guarded. I have never seen a house more carefully looked after in the matter of barricades."

"The girl spoke slowly, as if on the witness stand. Then suddenly her black eyes twinkled, and she turned sharply toward Eve, saying, "Oh, do you do that, too?"

"Oh, do what?" cried Eve, angrily. "What do you mean?"

"Scribble notes, and pass 'em to somebody. I do, too. It's a habit I can't seem to break myself of."

"I didn't," and Eve's face flushed and her eyes glittered with a smoldering fire.

"Oh, tra la la," trilled Zizi, and nonchalantly turned away.

"Now for the Room with the Tassels," said Wise, and led the way to the fatal room.

"Ghastly, ghastly and grisly!" he declared after a quick survey, "but no entrance except by door or window."

"And they were locked every time the room was slept in by any of our party," announced the Professor, positively.

Wise—"You see, I feared secret panels and that sort of thing—not uncommon in old houses. But you've found none?"

ORANGE or grapefruit salad makes a tasty summer luncheon dish. Peel the fruit, slice thick and cut into squares. Lay the pieces on lettuce and serve with a rich French dressing.

If the kitchen range becomes spattered with fat wait until the stove is cold, then wipe it with gasoline, after which it can be polished. Add a few drops of turpentine to the blacking and when nearly dry polish with a cloth.

Gasoline will effectually exterminate vermin from beds and couches if applied with a small brush to every crack and crevice of the bed and surrounding wood work. If this is done immediately after breakfast there will be no offensive odor by bedtime.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

This is the story, as she told it to me, of how for love of her husband she disobeyed all the manmade laws of war and risked death repeatedly, brought up has not the chances of one who has had to rough it. The main thing that is wrong with both classes of girls is their faulty eating.

"I was in Paris resting, after driving an ambulance for months," she said, "when I received a mysterious letter from a Belgian peasant, affectionately urging me to leave my service at once and return home if I wished to see my grandfather before he died."

"At once I realized it was my husband's ruse to enable me to get within the lines, posing as a Belgian servant girl returning to her own country. He had induced the peasant to write the letter, and must be near the man's home. I knew that he was wounded in the head, but that they did not consider it serious enough to send him back to a hospital. I could not go to him openly as his wife, for several spy scandals had caused the Generals to issue orders that a soldier's wife found within the lines would meet the fate of a spy and that her husband also would be punished."

"At once I started. I reached Hazebruck and found the English in possession, and there, despite my explanation that I was a Belgian girl going to visit my dying grandfather, I was refused passage through the lines."

"I was frantic. Then I saw in the street an officer in the English uniform whom my husband and I had met in India. I recalled myself to him, told him my story and insisted that I must get to my husband. He husband at the risk of his life and her own to bring him little gifts and the great gift of her lovely and loving self—a short two weeks before a German bayonet ended his life and their life together.

I know it sounds like somebody's thrilling and picturesque novel. But more than that, I could march with it. And I did. There were many wagons full of guns, and the company did not march in regular formation. I curled up in the straw in one of the wagons a good part of the time, keeping out of the light as much as possible.

"Near and loud I heard the enemy's cannonade. Every time the guns roared I put my head down, way down between my shoulders and said to myself 'Now, this time I am going to be hit.' Oh, it is an awful feeling!"

"I had curled my hair and I wore a cap. My friend had told me under-officer in the company who I really was. He kept an eye on me and let me know when we had reached the little train across the Belgian frontier where I could take a munitions train, the rest of the way. I slipped off the wagon with my two baskets—one containing pretty clothes for myself and one sweets for my husband—and with Peleuche, my little dog, whom I had brought with me because I thought he would make me seem more innocent if I were discovered. I left my khaki suit in the gun wagon, changing in the darkness to the Belgian peasant costume."

After leaving the munitions train Mme. Pujet walked for five hours in mud up to her knees. Then she hid in the barn of the peasant who had sent her the bogus message, while a little boy brought news of her arrival to her husband in his rest trench a mile off. For 10 days she stayed in the barn, sleeping on a straw mattress on the floor, living on coffee and milk and such bits of food as her husband could bring her—living for the hours he could spend with her, not every day, but at such times as she could bribe or persuade a comrade to answer for him at roll call. The sound of the enemy's guns never ceased, and one shell struck the farmhouse attached to the barn in which she stayed.

Then her husband went back to the firing line, and she returned to

This Talk About Lightweight "Red" Herring Being a Coming Champion Sounds Fishy

Beckett, British Champion, Knocks Out M'Goorty in 17 Rounds; Fulton Wins Quickly

American Middleweight Fighter Puts Up Game Battle, Though at Big Disadvantage in Height, Weight and Age—Englishman Now Is Expected to Face Carpentier.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Joe Beckett, the British heavyweight champion, took another stride toward a match with Jack Dempsey for the world's championship, last night, when he knocked out Eddie McGorty of Oshkosh, Wis., in the seventeenth round of a scheduled 20-round contest.

In the same ring Fred Fulton, of Minneapolis, Minn., one time matched with Jess Willard for the title, knocked out Arthur Townley, of Southampton, a clever heavyweight of good reputation, in the first round.

As a result of Beckett's victory his match with Georges Carpentier, previously postponed, will probably be revived and a date set. Carpentier has not yet received his discharge from French service.

There was some talk of matching Fulton and Beckett, but no announcement of Beckett's consent has been made. Beckett stated last night that if he defeated Carpentier, he would challenge Dempsey for the world's championship.

McGoorty at Disadvantage. Last night's fight between McGorty and Beckett saw the American giving away height, weight and age. McGorty, who, when at his best was a middleweight, weighed above 170 pounds, last night, but was in good condition, and was in his prime, as he was standing up in front of a fierce attack as long as he did in spite of a 17-pound weight discrepancy.

He slipped to the floor in the fourth round and was half stunned by the fall.

A right swing to the jaw floored him in the thirteenth, just as the ring sounded the bell saving him. The next round was bitter punishment for McGorty who stalled his way through Beckett's savage assault, lasting out the round. His ring experience pulled him through and he came out in the fifteenth stronger.

By using his feet he kept out of Beckett's way; but in the sixteenth he fell to the floor in his own corner and was again shaken up. Beckett declining to rush him, as he rose, McGorty knocked through ropes. The seventeenth saw Beckett again floor McGorty, who rose after taking the count, only to be knocked down through the ropes. The spectators wildly cheered and reached for more than 8000 persons witnessed the contest.

McGoorty, although in good physical condition, was not the same fighter who exhibited here several years ago. Last night he was at the age of 30 years old, and he was apparently very much slower, possibly due to the fact that he is heavier than his normal weight and is 30 years old. He acted in a half-hearted way when he shook Beckett heavily with a hard right uppercut. It was about the only time he was dangerous.

Miss Bjurstedt Marries Broker

Former Woman Tennis Champion Declares She Will Continue Playing in Title Matches.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Molla Bjurstedt, famous tennis player, and Frank Mallory, prominent New York broker, caused a surprise among the society attending the national championship here by taking out a marriage license at the city hall, this morning.

They were married at 11:20 o'clock at the Marriage Bureau in the presence of Mrs. George H. Wightman, national woman champion, and Julian M. Myrick, vice president of the U. S. National Lawn Tennis Association.

Mrs. Mallory has been residing in this city for the past five years, during which time she has won national titles in clay and indoor tennis championships for women and has ranked first in the United States for several years.

Despite her marriage she expects to continue playing. At Cedarhurst, N. Y., she is in finals against Mrs. McKim.

MINORS WERE PREPARED TO FIGHT THE DRAFT, DAVE FULTZ ASSERTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Any attempt by major league owners to draft minor league players would be fought in the courts and by other means, according to a statement issued here last night by David Fultz, president of the new International League. The statement does not specify what the "other means" are, but declares that "there is a remedy available to the minors in addition to court proceedings which we believe would effectively convince the major clubs that they had done a very poor piece of business."

Fultz asserted that the major league owners entered into an agreement with the minors but as we have their players and that August Herrmann, president of the National Baseball Commission, confirmed this agreement. "Mr. Herrmann," the statement says, "has gone on record as denying any such agreement was made with the minors but as we have numerous unbiased witnesses to whom Mr. Herrmann personally confirmed the agreement, the proof is a very simple matter."

Congress League Formed. The Congress Bowling League with eight clubs has been organized for the season. The teams are the Bussmans, Wescons, Frank Adams, Western Electric, American Folding Box, Buck's, Specials, Nationals and Brokers. Al Busman is president; R. Bencke, vice president, and T. P. Carroll, secretary-treasurer.

Big League Clubs to Suspend 1919 High School Star Enters Missouri U.

Owners Accept Recommendation of National Commission—Star Players to Be Purchased.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Club owners of the National and American Leagues will not draft star players from the minor leagues this fall. This was decided last night, when the National Baseball Commission recommended that the privileges of the draft be suspended for 1919 because of the "uncertainty now existing" between the major and minor leagues of the country.

The commission ruled, however, that the major league clubs be permitted to continue the purchase of players if suitable arrangements could be made with the minor leagues.

A. R. Kearney of Chicago, president of the Three-I and Western Leagues, who led the fight against the practice of the major leagues in drafting minor league talent, was elated with the action of the commission. He was chairman of the committee which effected a break in relations with the major leagues last winter, and the subsequent abrogation of the national agreement.

The action means that the minor leagues will now be able to build fences for themselves instead of for the major leagues. Kearney said that the major league clubs have been more players sold from the minors this fall than in any previous year.

ghost of the Federal League fight was brought up by the commission, which ruled that the old International League still is in debt to the commission to the extent of $8700. The commission served warning that unless this money was paid within 30 days the territorial rights of the cities comprising the International League circuit in 1914 would be sold to the highest bidder.

"Some minor league clubs have been able to survive only through the sale of players to the major leagues," the commission said. "If the major league clubs are to be able to build fences for themselves instead of for the major leagues, they must be able to pay for the players they draft from the minors." The commission ruled that the old International League still is in debt to the commission to the extent of $8700.

ONLY 3 PROFESSIONALS COMPETING TODAY IN QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

Jim Barnes, Sunset Hill professional, Willie Kidd of Algonquin and Ray Cole, Barnes' assistant, took off this morning at the Sunset course for the only entrants in the district's qualifying round for the championship tournament of the American Association.

The district extends from Missouri to Colorado and from Minnesota to Texas and about 44 professionals are eligible to compete in the qualifying round. The district's qualifying round for the championship tournament of the American Association is held at the Engineers' Club course, Long Island.

The tournament has not been held since 1917. The district's qualifying round for the championship tournament of the American Association is held at the Engineers' Club course, Long Island.

Nine-Game World Series Is Wanted

Commission Asks Club Owners for Immediate Ratification of New Plan.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Because of the unprecedented demand for world's series seats this fall, the National Baseball Commission at a meeting yesterday recommended that the series be increased to nine games instead of the usual seven. The proposal was sent to the club owners of the American and National Leagues for immediate ratification.

Under the proposed plan, the players of the rival clubs would share in the receipts of the first five games, instead of four, as in former years, and the victorious team would have to take five of the nine contests to win the world's championship. Hereafter the championship was decided by one of the clubs won four of the seven.

August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, explained that the recommendation was made for no other reason than to benefit the public by permitting a larger number of persons to see at least one of the games. Although the Cincinnati club has not clinched the National League pennant, Chairman Herrmann, who also is president of the Reds, said he had received 29,000 applications for seats from people outside of Cincinnati.

TOSS OF COIN GIVES CAPT. JACKSON TITLE

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 3.—The toss of a coin made Joseph Jackson of the United States Marines, the winner of the Wingate bobbing target match at 200 yards in the annual rifle tournament here yesterday after he and Sgt. J. P. Water, also of the Marines, had each scored a perfect 100 in the 1000-yard event. Four other contestants were tied for third place, each having scored nine bull's-eyes. They also tossed coins for places and it was given to C. R. Norton of the Marines. Capt. Roscoe Arnot of the Marines won fourth, Kenrick and Missouri. Lou Kieley is president and T. P. Carroll, secretary-treasurer.

K. of C. League Organized. The Knights of Columbus has organized an eight-club bowling league to roll on by the alleys every Monday. The teams are the Kain, De Andries, Marquette, Bailey, Sheridan, Laclede, Kenrick and Missouri. Lou Kieley is president and T. P. Carroll, secretary-treasurer.

Goodwin, Again in Great Form, Gives Pittsburgh 3 Hits

Cardinals' Victory Was Third Over Bezdek's Team Since Last Thursday.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 3.—The St. Louis Cardinals left here last night for home, and will arrive in St. Louis this afternoon in time to see the Browns wind up with the Cleveland Indians. The Cards were happy when they left here with the thought that they had conquered the Buccaneers three times out of five since last Thursday. The season's play between the two teams now stands 10 to 7 in favor of the Cardinals and the Cardinals have a chance to beat even up when the Pirates visit St. Louis this month. The Cards won four of their games here and three at home out of their seven successes.

Hamilton Beat Rice's Men. The first game here was on May 8, when Earl Hamilton beat Sherdel and a few other pitchers by a score of 4 to 2. The Cards weren't seen here after that till June 30, when Adams beat Jackie May by a score of 4 to 1. The next day Mayer beat Doak, 11 to 4, and on July 2 May beat Hamilton, 4 to 2, although it took two other pitchers, Sherdel and Turo, to save the game in the ninth, when the Buck got their two runs.

The Cards came back for one game on July 7 and this was the weirdest contest of the year at Forbes Field. Pittsburgh won by a score of 14 to 9, Mayer being the winning pitcher, although he was hit for 15 hits, while the Buccaneers got 15 hits of their own. Sherdel, Bolden, Turo and Goodwin.

Schupp Twice Trimmed Pirates. While the last five games are still fresh in the memory of the fans, it may be said that on Aug. 28 Ferdie Schupp led the Pirates down with one hit and defeated Cooper, 3 to 1, and the next day Frank Miller got away to a lucky win over Sherdel by a score of 5 to 3. On Labor day morning Schupp beat Miller, although it took the rescue work of Willie Doak to save Ferdie the victory. Cooper defeated Sherdel in the afternoon.

Goodwin in Fine Form. As to yesterday's contest, Marvin Goodwin had a long rest, and Manager Rice was undecided up to the last minute whether to send him in or not, having Schupp warming up also, but there was no mistake made. The former Milwaukee star was never in trouble, even with the bases full and none out in the seventh, for very few of the Pirates were hitting the ball out of the infield. It appeared, up to that time, as if a no-hit game was in the making, but when Carey beat out a slow roller that Lavan got his hands on and then mess up, on a very hard chance, the official scorer through with the further damage, but finally honest judgment was allowed to have away and Carey was given a hit.

Goodwin in Fine Form. As to yesterday's contest, Marvin Goodwin had a long rest, and Manager Rice was undecided up to the last minute whether to send him in or not, having Schupp warming up also, but there was no mistake made. The former Milwaukee star was never in trouble, even with the bases full and none out in the seventh, for very few of the Pirates were hitting the ball out of the infield. It appeared, up to that time, as if a no-hit game was in the making, but when Carey beat out a slow roller that Lavan got his hands on and then mess up, on a very hard chance, the official scorer through with the further damage, but finally honest judgment was allowed to have away and Carey was given a hit.

Johnston's Fine Court Strategy Faces Hard Test

Far-Western Tennis Star Will Oppose Wonderfully Hard Hitter in Tilden.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—That fascinating game of "picking a winner" held away at the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills yesterday. Admirers of William M. Johnston, the Pacific Coast star, and of William T. Tilden II, the hard hitter from Philadelphia, exhausted their arguments and adjectives as they theoretically expounded why one would beat the other for the All-Comers' National Championship Singles, just as soon as the weather took a more kindly stand.

All of this lively and interesting discussion was provoked because of the second postponement of the final round of the tournament, due to the threatening weather.

Tilden has a strong following and the advocacy of his winning brought to light that a movement is gaining headway to have the All-Comers' championship on the turf of the Germantown Cricket Club, next season.

Philadelphia Seeks 1920 Tourney. The Philadelphia forces believe that they will have a Pennsylvania holding the title, the first since William J. Clothier, the Quaker City would excel the metropolis as to attendance. It is also argued that, with the Davis Cup final at Forest Hills, next season, the All-Comers should be transplanted to other courts.

Those who are backing the Philadelphia plan believe that a victory by Tilden will clinch the matter. Dr. Sumner Hardy, the Pacific Coast member of the Executive Committee, displayed intense interest in making sure that Johnston was resting and conserving his energies for the real test of the Davis Cup final.

There is likewise a selfish interest in the West wishing to land the title through one of its players. The campaign for greater recognition, for equalization of voting power and a few other things is quietly going forward in the background, and the three associations that have merged their interests.

Edwin P. Fischer, the veteran player who has acted as umpire of several of the important matches, said that in his estimation Tilden would win the Davis Cup this year was correct in his steadiness of game.

Those who favored Johnston simply pointed to the cool-headed generalship he had displayed in his defeat of Gerald L. Patterson, the Australian holder of the world's championship, of Robert L. Murray, the playing through title holder, and Wallace F. Johnston.

United States Net Stars Should Win Team Match From Australians

By Davison Obeart, Secretary of the St. Louis Tennis Association.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Although winning the tennis championship of the United States in doubles the Americans and Johnston and Tilden will be the best of the three days of play. The Australians are favored to win the singles match, but Johnston and Tilden have never played together before, although they might surprise with a victory.

Results of two days matches would then give United States three points to their opponents two. On the third day the United States will have to win the match between Johnston and Tilden should win from Loyett and Thomas Johnston might possibly defeat Tilden, thus making the final score: United States 5, Australia 3. In the event of a tie, the sets will be counted to determine the results.

Australians Going to Canada. All four members of the Australian team have made themselves extremely popular with everybody here and should they win the team match their victory will be accepted by the Americans in a sportsmanlike manner.

It will also cloud the claim of the English authorities that the recent championship tournament at Wimbledon was a real world's championship affair.

All four visitors are expected to leave Saturday for the last match to take part in a tournament at Toronto, Canada. Their next stop is not known as the plans for a journey westward have not been completed.

MRS. G. WIGHTMAN AND PARTNER LAND HONORS CEDARHURST, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Mrs. George W. Wightman and Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston defeated Miss Molla Bjurstedt and Mrs. E. T. Weaver of New York in the doubles final of the Rockaway Hunting Club invitation lawn

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

SCATTER SEEDS OF KINDNESS.

Be kind to the unfortunate—
Have pity on the wight
Who through some evil trick of fate
Has never started right.
The very man whose timid plea
For succor you refuse,
Some day a millionaire may be
And own a stock of booze.

Spurn not a sister in distress,
Though blackened be her eye;
Though wild her manner, soiled her dress,
Ah! do not pass her by:
For if you crush her with a glance,
How foolish you will look
If later on, by any chance,
You learn that she's a cook.

Stretch forth a helping hand to him
Who calls on you for aid—
A man whose circumstances grim
A awful wreck has made.
Some day he may come out on top
And you will get a jar,
If ever he's a traffic cop
The day you speed your car.

Do not refuse the hungry man
Who asks you for a meal;
Respond as freely as you can
To his low-voiced appeal.
For you will have a horrid shock
If he should be by chance
Inspecting baggage on the dock
The day you land from France.

HE'LL GET ALL.
The Government had better hurry and curb the profiteer, otherwise it will be unable to collect any income tax.

Sir Arbuthnot Lane told the following story at the annual session of the American Medical Association relative to his frequent visits to this country: "A man came to the priest and told him of somebody who had fallen 40 feet and not been injured.
The priest said that was an accident.
The man came again and said the same person had again fallen 40 feet without injury. The priest said that was a coincidence. Again the man came with the same story and then the priest said: 'Now it's a habit.'—Journal of the American a note which he has received from

G. K. Chesterton in reply to one ask-

Mr. Chesterton replied: "Thank you so much for your letter. I only write this one in order to show you, finally and upon documentary evidence, that I cannot write English any more than you. I also am trying to learn to do so. A most usual and
